Arabs, Israelis still battling (at peace table)

GENEVA (UPI) — The Middle East peace conference, its opening marred by a blistering exchange of taunts and threats, moved into a second day today with Israeli-Egyptian troop withdrawals expected to top the agenda.

The groundwork for talks on troop pullbacks from the Suez Canal was laid Friday night in two private sessions—one between Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmi, the other between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and his Israeli counterpart, Abba Eban.

The Gromyko-Eban meeting was the first between such high-level Soviet and Israeli officials since Moscow broke off diplomatic relations with Jerusalem following the 1967 war.

Today's session came on the Jewish Sabbath, usually a day when official talks are prohibited by the Israeli government. But this time special dispensation was granted because of the crucial nature of the discussions—the first gathering of Arabs and Israelis at a peace table in 25 years of conflict.

Despite the acrimonious debate at the conference start Friday, U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim said afterwards it was "characterized by restraint" compared to some U.N. Security Council meetings.

Eban accused the Arabs of "savage treatment" of Israeli war prisoners. Fahmi hit back with a charge Eban was trying to "belittle" Arab intelligence and warned: "Not only Israelis can use modern and sophisticated weapons."

Waldheim, the conference chairman, said today's session would deal in part with the disengagement question. Kissinger said the first order of business should be the separation of Israeli and Egyptian forces, something Cairo has said it wanted to begin discussing immediately.

House refuses to weaken energy measure

Power bill for Nixon halted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate filibuster against a tax on high oil company profits and the refusal of the House to accept a weaker bill held up the measure to give President Nixon emergency energy powers and the adjournment of Congress.

The Senate, hobbled by a filibuster, agreed to weaken the emergency measure but the House would not.

The clearest authority in the bill was the President's power to order gasoline rationing— which administration officials considered secondary—and the White House lobbied against congressional veto provisions and promised a close look at the legislation if it passes.

Federal energy adviser William E. Simon, who hopes voluntary action would hold off gasoline rationing, praised Americans for their work in keeping energy use to a minimum. A decision on rationing is expected within a month.

Working in a 14-hour session, the House first refused in two successive votes to accept quickly fashioned compromises with the Senate version and then decisively rejected the Senate proposal.

House GOP Leader John Rhodes said the Staggers compromises would be vetoed and even if the House did pass them, the Senate assistant Republican leader, Sen. Robert Griffin of Michigan, informed him there were not enough Senators left in town to act on the new compromise either Friday night or Saturday.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., accused oil-state senators, who earlier in the day talked against the conference agreement, of "filibustering in the interests of big oil."

The Senate proposed breaking a stalemate by passing an interim bill that would expire April 1. The House balked, voting to stand by an earlier measure worked out by Senate and House conferees.

A compromise in the Senate, engineered off the floor among Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., Rep. Harley W. Staggers, D-W.Va., and White House aides broke a Senate filibuster over the "windfall profits" section of the energy bill.

The energy measure was the last obstacle in the way of adjourning the 93rd Congress. Early in the day an increase in the social security benefits and relief for financially failing railroads passed and were sent to the White House.

HOPE AT CHRISTMAS

Comedian Bob Hope, spending one of his first Christmas seasons at home since the Berlin air lift in 1948, brought his yuletide bag of one liners to applauding patients of Letterman General Army Hospital at San Francisco's Presidio Friday. Hope shakes hands with patient Lt. Col. Daryl K. Blackham of Deweyville, Utah, as Miss World, U.S.A. Lexi Brockway of Richmond, Wash. looks on admiringly.

After escape from CIM

Attorney, doctor guilty of hiding fugitive Beaty

PHOENIX, Ariz. — A U. S. District Court jury Friday found a Ft. Defiance doctor and his wife, and an attorney guilty of harboring fugitive Ronald Wayne Beaty last year following Beaty's escape from California Institution for Men in Chino. A prison guard was killed during the escape and another was wounded.

Found guilty of concealing Beaty during his two-month flight from the law were Dr. Harry Bishara, Mrs. Lorraine Bishara, and Michael Goldstein, all of Ft. Defiance, Ariz.

The trio were found guilty of three charges: conspiring to and willfully harboring and concealing an escaped prisoner, accessory after the fact, and misprison of a felony.

During the trial, Beaty, who has been convicted of murder and is serving a life sentence, appeared as a prosecution witness and told of spending three days at the Bishara's home about one month after the bloody shootout that freed him on Oct. 6, 1972.

The escape took place in broad daylight along Edison Avenue just after guards Jesse Sanchez and George Fitzpatrick had left CIM to take Beaty to court in San Bernardino. After the guards' car was run off the road, the unarmed guards were shot, Sanchez fatally.

Beaty has claimed in testimony that the revolutionary group "Venceremos" planned and executed the escape, and also arranged for his concealment at the Bishara home.

During the nine-day trial, the defense claimed that Beaty was a masterful storyteller and was lying about the defendants' involvement. The eight men and four women of the jury deliberated only one day before finding them guilty, however.

Murder suspect held in La Verne

LA VERNE — A second suspect has been arrested in the slaying Nov. 11 of Jon Balfour Soupcuff.

The suspect, Johnny Cosio Salazar, 24, of La Puente, was arraigned in Pomona Municipal Court Thursday afternoon along with the first suspect, Ruben Sanchez, 20, of La Puente. Both were charged with murder and are being held without bond.

Judge James Piatt set their preliminary hearings for 9 a.m. Dec. 27.

Detective D. F. Griggs said Salazar, picked up at his place of work at noon, had been arrested once before but was released for lack of sufficient evidence.

The two men are suspects in the fatal stabbing of Soupcuff after a party at the La Verne Inn, which was attended by nearly 400 persons.

Chino man killed by bull's kick near scene

Ontarian, second victim in fatal air crash, dies from injuries

By LANGE WINCKLER
P-B Staff Writer

RIVERSIDE — A flight instructor injured when a plane crashed in a pasture in the Prado flood control basin Thursday morning died shortly before noon Friday in a hospital here.

About two hours later Chino dairyman Nicolaas Vander Dussen, 50, died at the same hospital of head injuries suffered just after the plane crash when a bull kicked him in the head. Early speculation that the bull was frightened as the disable plane passed overhead has been discounted by the Riverside County Sheriff's Office.

Rex Beach White, 51, holder of the Air Safety Award from the State of Idaho as well as a commendation for more than 12,000 hours of air safety, died at 11:14 a.m. at Riverside General Hospital.

The Ontario man had been hospitalized with multiple injuries after the single engine-plane went down about 11:30 a.m. Thursday, killing the Rev. Glen Wiley Terry, 40, pastor of the Mt. Baldy Community Church.

A third person injured in the mishap, Michael Wood, 18, of 5457 Evart St., Montclair, was reported "slightly improved" at the hospital, but still in serious condition.

Mr. White, a certified flight instructor, lived at 1205 Council Ave. Born in Pratt, Kan., he had lived in the West End community for 29 years. He had been a welder at Kaiser Steel's Fontana plant for the past 12 years.

He belonged to the Methodist Church, the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, and the National Rifle Association.

Surviving are his widow, Marie E. White; his mother, Mrs. Maggie White of Upland; two sons, Larry Alan of Anaheim and Charles Wesley of Troy, Mich.; a daughter, Mrs. Terry Lee Bogard of Nanuet, N.Y.: a sister, Mrs. Blanche Gomez of Santa Monica; a brother, Leroy of Lakeside; and six grandchildren.

Private funeral arrangements are pending at Stone Funeral Home in Upland. Memorial donations may be made to the City of Hope, Casa Colina, or the Air Safety Foundation.

Mr. Vander Dussen was attending a dairymen's calf auction Thursday at 14982 Chandler Ave., Corona, when he was kicked by a bull. Firemen from the El Cerrito Fire Station, returning from the air crash scene, were flagged down to give first aid. He died at 1:25 p.m. Friday in the hospital.

Born Dec. 6, 1924, in the Netherlands, Mr. Vander Dussen came to California 27 years ago. He moved from Compton to Chino 12 years ago, where he resided at 12225 Roswell Ave. He was a self-employed dairy worker.

A U. S. Army veteran of the Korean war, he was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in action. He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church in Chino.

Surviving are his widow, Ann; two daughters, Rena Alida Johana, and Arlene Johana, and a son, Andrew Ray, all at home; his father, Adrianus Vander Dussen, Artesia; two sisters, Miss Wilma Vander Dussen and Miss Carnelia Vander Dussen, both of Artesia.

Services will be held at the First Christian Reformed Church Wednesday at 10 a.m., the Rev. Louis Dykstra officiating. Interment will be in Pomona Cemetery. Griffith Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

Fewer motorists on-the-road; holiday death toll seen lower

By United Press International

Americans took to the highways Friday—in smaller numbers than years past—heading for vacation spots and Christmas holiday reunions.

In many parts of the nation, beset by stormy weather, they faced a triple-threat: icy highways, the drinking driver and gasoline shortages that could leave them stranded.

Taking note of the crunch on gasoline supplies and reduced speed limits across the country, the National Safety Council said the highway death toll would be lower than if there were no energy crisis.

It estimated that between 550 and 650 persons would die in traffic between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Tuesday. Safety Council President Vincent L. Tofany said the figure "represents a reduction of 50 fatalities from what the toll might have been if the gasoline shortage did not exist."

The council also projected 25,000 to 29,000 disabling injuries during the 102-hour holiday period.

The council's estimates were prepared before a series of wintry storms piled snow and ice on highways in many parts of the nation.

Officials said there was no way of knowing whether icy roads would increase the traffic toll by boosting the number of accidents or decrease it by causing thousands of drivers to stay home.

In an accident before the casualty counting period began, three Pittsburgh area teenagers were killed when the car in which they were riding jumped a divider on a bypass and struck a tractor trailer headon. Two other teen-agers were injured seriously.

ENERGY TIP

TV instant-on should be off

For "instant-on" television sets, turn the instant-on button off in the back of the set to save on a large amount of energy throughout the year.

Readers with suggestions on saving energy should send them to the Progress-Bulletin, City Desk, 300 S. Thomas St., Pomona 91766.

You can't turn this man down

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One energy-conscious American has asked the government to send him a thermostat so he can turn it down.

He told energy chief William E. Simon in a letter that he did not have a thermostat in his house but would like to cooperate with the government.

Besides, said the man, using a thermostat sounded better than chopping wood for his fireplace.

High speed crash kills motorist

LA VERNE — An unidentified man was killed late Friday night when his car skidded off the Foothill Freeway near Foothill Boulevard here at high speed.

The man, said investigating highway patrol officers, apparently died instantly in the crash. Witnesses estimated the car's speed at more than 80 miles per hour. The car went over an embankment and a fence before coming to rest on its roof on Sentinal Drive.

Billion dollar price hike in steel industry delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Cost of Living Council (CLC) Friday delayed a billion dollar price increase requested by the steel industry but allowed price relief for scrap iron, a vital industry commodity.

Nearly 3 dozen steel companies ranging from the giant U.S. Steel to small speciality producers would have been free to boost prices on a wide variety of products beginning Jan. 1 if the council had not taken the delaying action.

The schedule of increases announced by the companies averaged about 5 per cent and would, if approved in full by the federal price watching agency, add about $1 billion to the cost of steel users users in 1974.

CLC deputy director James W. McLane said a decision on the increase would be held up "until an in depth analysis of information . . . can be completed." The material was requested from industry officials during two days of public hearings this week.

Under Phase IV rules, big price increases by corporations automatically take effect 30 days after notification of the CLC. The council's action suspends that "30-day clock" for an indefinite period.

In a related action, McLane said steel companies would be allowed to pass through heavy cost increases they have had to absorb because of sharply rising prices for scrap iron.

The passthrough may be reflected in price increases of steel products which have not been raised in price under the Phase IV program, McLane said.

Evacuation of homes begins

Winter storms, floods hit East, Midwest; 56 dead

A "dangerous" first-day-of-winter storm Friday spawned floods along the Atlantic Seaboard, driving hundreds of Philadelphia-area families from their homes, and stacked heavy snows on holiday travelers in the Appalachians.

Torrential rains combined with melting snow to send streams over their banks from North Carolina to New England. A Civil Defense spokesman said more than 150 families were forced from their homes along Perkiomen Creek in the Philadelphia area. High waters closed sections of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the Schuylkill Expressway and Philadelphia's East River Drive.

Between 800 and 1,000 persons prepared to leave their homes in New Jersey's Middlesex county as flood waters from the Raritan River overflowed roads.

New York City's Central Park station received 2.37 inches of rain Friday, boosting the December total to 8 inches. The amounts were records for the date and the month.

Four bridges were washed out in Vermont. At Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University's inflated track and field house, dubbed "Moby Dick," collapsed in wind gusts.

Deep snow

Harsh cold spread through the Midwest, where deep snow dropped by the same storm Wednesday and Thursday still caused death and hardships. The cold wave speared all the way to Texas' lower Rio Grande Valley where a 26-degree freeze threatened damage to the citrus crop.

Another weather front boring in from the Pacific sent advance rains inland across northern California and the Pacific Northwest.

The week's toll of weather-connected deaths climbed to 56 as midwesterners trying to shovel out collapsed and died of heart attacks and overexertion. The St. Louis area alone counted nine such fatalities.

33 die in storm

The storm was blamed for at least 33 deaths on its eastward sweep—11 in Missouri, 6 in Indiana, 5 each in Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois and 1 in Iowa. A forerunner storm in the East earlier this week claimed 23 lives.

As the big storm bowled up the Appalachian and Blue Ridge mountain chains Friday the National Weather Service warned: "This is a dangerous storm." A spate of flash floods, heavy snow, cold wave and travel warnings were issued.

Up to 8 inches of snow hit West Virginia, closing schools in some counties and slowing traffic sharply on the West Virginia Turnpike. Snow emergency plans were put into effect in Maryland's three western counties.

Main route closed

U.S. 78, the main route between Atlanta and Birmingham, Ala., was closed in both Alabama and Georgia because of ice. Four inches of snow in four hours slicked highways in western parts of Virginia.

Flooding was reported in lowlands of Virginia, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and southeastern New York. Flash flood warnings were raised northeastward into New England. Vermont Gov. Thomas Salmon declared a state of emergency to cope with potential flooding.

In the suffering midlands, temperatures dropped to 20 below zero in Duluth, Minn., a record-breaking December low of 17 below at Springfield, Ill., and 11 below at Davenport, Iowa.

Fourteen-inch-deep snow caved in a 125-foot-long section of a dormitory roof at Taylor University in Upland, Ind. Students were on vacation and no one was injured.

EASY SLEDDING — The first snowstorm of the winter brought six inches of snow to Springfield Mo. and these two students took advantage of it. Julie Neely and Roger Ridgeway used their free time to frolic in the traditional sport of sledding.

HHH admits tax cut for V.P. papers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., disclosed Friday that he took tax deductions of $199,153 for the contribution of his vice presidential papers to the Minnesota Historical Society.

Humphrey's deduction compares with the $576,000 deduction President Nixon said he took for the gift of his vice presidential papers to the National Archives, resulting in a tax savings of $235,000.

Humphrey said that for the years 1969-72, when he took the deductions, he paid $200,991 in federal taxes and $25,919 in Minnesota state income taxes. Nixon has said that during the same period, he paid $78,151 in federal income taxes and no state income tax.

Humphrey said his vice presidential papers were appraised by Ralph G. Newman, president of the Abraham Lincoln Book Shop of Chicago, who also appraised Nixon's papers.

In a statement prepared in response to reporters' inquiries, Humphrey said:

"I have claimed deductions of $199,153 for papers contributed by me which were accumulated during the vice presidential years (1965-69). The deductions were according to law. The papers were delivered within the time frame of the law. And all of my returns claiming these deductions have been audited by the Internal Revenue Service."

Order called 'incredible'

Nixon still silent on tape subpoena

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House declined Friday to say whether President Nixon would comply with what it called an "incredible" Senate Watergate committee demand for several hundred tapes and documents.

Deputy White House press secretary Gerald L. Warren indicated Nixon might have "something to say about this extraordinary request later."

"The subpoenas have been received," Warren said. "The request is very large, incredible. It asks for more than 500 documents, conversations in addition to the Presidents daily file."

Warren also said:

—Further disclosures of Watergate-related matters as part of the White House "Operation Candor" will be delayed until after Christmas.

—In regard to the request by then-White House Counsel John W. Dean III last year for to the Internal Revenue Service to audit the tax returns of 575 "enemies" of the administration, "if the President had been aware of it, it would not have been submitted."

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said former IRS Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters showed him the enemies list and that "we agreed that it was a lousy idea and we killed it."

Shultz confirmed that th list came from Dean, but quoted Walters as saying that Nixon wasn't aware of the document.

Asked why he didn't bring it to Nixon's attention, Shultz replied: "Because I thought it was a crummy idea and we killed it dead and that was the end of it."

Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said on the Senate floor that the Watergate committee had been responsible for spreading "hearsay, innuendoes and speculations . . . over nationwide television."

Criticism of Nixon caused anti-trust suit, CBS says

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Columbia Broadcasting System charged Friday that the Justice Department brought an antitrust suit against the network in an attempt to inhibit CBS criticism of President Nixon.

CBS filed a reply in the court of U.S. District Judge Robert Kelleher to a suit brought in April, 1972, by the Justice Department against CBS, NBC and ABC.

The government suit alleged that the three major networks were in violation of antitrust statutes in participating in such nonbroadcasting fields as the production of TV serials, recordings and other commercial areas.

The brief filed by CBS Friday said that "agents" of the Nixon administration were attempting to stifle the network in violation of the First Amendment guarantees of freedom of the press.

A portion of the CBS brief said:

"From as early as October, 1969, agents of plaintiff (Department of Justice) prepared and carried out an unlawful plan to use the power and machinery of the federal government to restrain, intimidate and inhibit criticism of the President of the United States and his appointes in violation of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution.

"This action was commenced for the purpose of harassing, intimidating and inhibiting CBS in its exercise of the rights guaranteed by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and in reprisal for the exercise of such rights by CBS."

Lawyers for CBS in Los Angeles declined to comment further but sources close to the network said that CBS might attempt to subpoena former White House aides H.R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman in an attempt to demonstrate there was such an effort at intimidation.

Date for trial of the antitrust action has not yet been set.

Casa Colina children see Santa's aides

POMONA — Fifteen children from the Casa Colina Hospital and their mothers were guests at the Pomona Breakfast Lions Club annual Christmas party.

The Friday program featured Santa Claus helpers with music provided by Mt. San Antonio College's men's glee club and Frank Ness of Dugan's Music Store.

Marty McCall, a Pomona actor, served as Santa's helper. He was assisted by Beverly DuLake and Susanne Mullens.

The program was also attended by club members and their families.

3 face trial in fire killing

ONTARIO — Three men were ordered to stand trial Feb. 19 in West Valley Superior Court on charges of murder in the death of 14-year-old Rodney Almaguer of Chino.

The trio are Jesse Alexander Ruiz, 23, of 13122 Roswell Ave., Chino, Steve Edmund Lopez, 20, of 1445 Jacaranda St., Chino, and Rudy Arellano, 22, of 1337 Mildred St., Chino.

They are accused of setting the Chino boy afire in a garage on Oct. 26. The boy died about two weeks later.

Banning man to be tried

ONTARIO — Frank Antick, 45, of Banning, was ordered to stand trial on charges of murder and burglary in West Valley Superior Court on Jan. 14.

Antick is being charged with the murder of Joseph Bose, 45, also of Banning, who was shot and killed by Upland Police on Sept. 28. Bose was a burglary suspect and Antick is accused of being his accomplice.

Under California law, a person proven to be the accomplice of another killed during the commission of a felony may be charged with murder.

Saved his soul

RATBY, England (UPI) — When the Rev. Peter Blackman, vicar of Ratby church, found himself locked in the vestry he pealed an SOS message on the church bells until someone came to investigate and unlocked the door.

2 arraigned, face charge of soliciting

POMONA — Two women were arraigned in Municipal Court Friday on charges of willfully soliciting other persons to engage in acts of prostitution.

Judge James Plant set their trial for 9 a.m. Jan. 29. The two defendants each posted $500 bonds and were released from custody.

The women are Corrie Maria Rudolph, 41, 939 W. Arrow Highway, Claremont, and 25-year-old Loretta Marie Wheeler, 10391 Pradera Ave., Montclair. Both were booked on charges of soliciting for purposes of prostitution.

The sheriff's department was brought into the case by Pomona police because of its expertise in such investigation, Capt. Richard Slaght said.

The local department had received information that illicit sex liaisons were taking place in some Pomona massage parlors. The arrests were made at the Swedish Massage Parlor, 1293 N. Garey Ave., and at Sultan's Palace, 705 N. Garey Ave.

2 La Puente residents injured in collision

CITY OF INDUSTRY—Two La Puente residents were injured in a headon collision Friday evening on Valley Boulevard just east of Azusa Avenue.

Velma Alice Baker, 51, was taken to Doctors' Hospital in La Puente for treatment of apparent broken ribs and internal injuries, according to the California Highway Patrol. Lewis Monroe Noble was sent to Queen of the Valley Hospital in West Covina, where his condition was undetermined.

Officers report the Baker car, eastbound on Valley about 5:25 p.m., for an undetermined reason swerved from the right hand lane, struck a sign, crossed back over both eastbound lanes, jumped the center divider, rolled over and landed in the right-hand westbound lane. The car was then struck by Noble's vehicle.

House passes bill to curb child abuse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House approved and sent to the White House Friday a four-year, $85 million bill calling for research and preventive measures dealing with the 60,000 annual cases of child abuse.

The measure provides federal grants to build, staff and maintain centers to collect information and investigate cases in which children are "beaten, burned, poisoned or otherwise abused by adults."

Move to change MSAC student body cards

DAVID'S DOLLS

On exhibit at Pomona Public library at Christmas time is collection of toys including some which are 100 years old and older. The toys belong to David Streeter, who heads library's special collections division. In photograph, upper left, Streeter is shown with German doll, about 75 years old, dressed in navy uniform Streeter wore as child. Doll, upper right, was made in Germany around 1890-1900. Toy couch was made in America around same period. Miniature coal stove, lower left, was made about 1902 and is a fully operating replica. Even the damper and flues work and the inside grates turn to shift the ashes. The collection includes an intricate doll house, circa 1860, believed to be of English origin, a teddy bear that dates back to about 1915, tops, skates and other antique play objects.

Drastic drop in membership sales to blame

WALNUT — The sale of student body cards is down so drastically at Mt. San Antonio College that there is now a movement under way to change the image of th_ cards.

Bill Morrow, president of the student body, told the MSAC board of trustees Thursday that membership in the student association is down from 41.5 per cent last year to 26.5 per cent of the day time student attendance this year.

Student participation used to be above 75 per cent in the 1960s, and 10 years ago was more than 90 per cent, according to Dennis Mayers, vice president in charge of student affairs.

What hurts just as much is the financial loss. Last year the students collected about $55,600 in student body fees; this year collections dropped to $31,200.

So Morrow told the board that the Associated Student Body is thinking of changing the name from ASB cards to something that would reflect a more general and useful nature, such as "College Service Card."

He said the student leaders think they should curb the emphasis that's placed on athletic events and concentrate more on cultural and social activities and on service.

Mayers pointed out that the student body fund provided about $23,000 last year in financial aids to students, that it supports the campus newspaper and that lately it has been underwriting the cost of more and more guest speakers.

He said the drop in extracurricular activites is being supplanted by a renewed interest in academic affairs.

Home of Santa's helpers burglarized while they're on way to workshop

POMONA — Good Samaritans sometimes get smitten.

Such is the case of the Bill Jefford family of 157 E. Franklin Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefford and their three children left their home one Sunday to go to the Santa Claus, Inc., workshop to paint and repair bicycles for distribution to needy families.

A burglar, noting the family's absence, backed a pickup into the driveway, entered the home through an unlocked window, and began carting away food, jewelry and household items.

"He cleaned out my freezer and even took some stew meat I had thawing on the kitchen stove," recalled Mrs. Jefford.

The thief also took a vacuum cleaner, television set, radio, stereo set, several watches and Mrs. Jefford's wedding rings.

But possibly the most cruel act was the theft of $200 in money orders needed to pay the house rent, car payment and utility bills.

This resulted in some utilities being turned off and the car being repossessed. At the time, Jefford was unemployed.

The suspicion of a neighbor possibly prevented more items from being taken, said Mrs. Jefford. He saw the pickup parked there and went to investigate.

When the neighbor knocked on the door, the burglar inside opened it slightly. He quickly slammed it when the neighbor yelled to his wife to call the police.

As the neighbor went to his home to get a gun, the burglar fled from the house and drove off in his pickup.

In his haste, the thief left a suitcase in the living room floor which contained a bottle of baby shampoo, coffee pot, package of deer meat and hair curlers.

"I don't understand why a burglar would pick our home," said Mrs. Jefford. "We just don't have that much to steal."

The Jeffords ask that persosn having any information about the burglary to contact police or Mrs. Jefford's mother, Ella Bockover, at 623-1926. Mrs. Bockover is vice president of Santa Claus, Inc.

Woman who escaped CIW in '71 jailed

CHINO — Barbara Lynn Cochran, 26, a convicted bank robber and kidnaper, who escaped from the California Institution for Women over two years ago, has been arrested in Dallas, Tex., by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

J. Gordon Shanklin, agent in charge of the Dallas FBI, said Thursday Miss Cochran was apprehended "without incident" at a northeast Dallas residence.

Miss Cochran in September 1971 was convicted by a federal court judge of robbing an Arizona savings and loan association and kidnaping its manager. She was sentenced to serve a 35-year term in a federal prison and a term in a California state prison for violation of parole. She was sent to the California Institution for Women to serve the state and federal sentences concurrently in Septembr 1971.

On Sept. 27, 1971 Miss Cochran escaped.

Prior to her conviction on the bank robbery-kidnaping charges Miss Cochran was sentenced to a California state prison after being convicted of grand theft in May 1965. In August, 1967 Miss Cochran escaped from CIW. She was apprehended in Jan. 1968 and finally paroled in July, 1970.

Shanklin said that Miss Cochran is now being held in the Dallas County Jail pending her removal to a federal penitentiary.

Let's both resign Ayala; it's a bad move: Lewis

By PAUL HILL
P-B Staff Writer

County Supervisor Ruben Ayala said Friday that he would quit his present position to conduct his state Senate campaign if his opponent, Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, did the same.

Ayala's comment was in response to a San Bernardino radio station's editorial calling for his resignation because "the taxpayers of San Bernardino County have been shortchanged" by his campaigns for higher office.

"If he (Lewis) resigns, I will resign," Ayala said. But he indicated that Lewis would have to resign first before he took similar action.

When asked of his reaction to Ayala's suggestion, Lewis responded rather matter-of-factly. He said he was "surprised" someone would suggest Ayala resign his office, and added that it "would not be of benefit to the people of San Bernardino County or the state of California" for either he or Ayala to resign.

"It would only burden the people with two more special elections," he said.

Ayala and Lewis are involved in a runoff election set for Jan. 15 to decide a successor to William E. Coombs who recently resigned his 20th District Senate seat. In voting last Tuesday, Lewis just missed winning outright when he received 49.1 per cent of the votes cast in the special election. Ayala finished second in the field of four candidates, receiving 37.5 per cent of the ballots.

Ayala, of Chino, was also a candidate in last year's 38th Congressional District Democratic primary. He lost by a slim margin to Rep. George Brown Jr.

In his rebuttal, which will be aired next Thursday, Ayala said, "I wholeheartedly agree with the editorial if the facts presented were correct. I feel I must set the record straight by saying that if I were using county time or county vehicles . . . to run for higher office, then 'yes' I should resign.

"However, that is not the case. The official records will show that I have taken vacation to run my campaigns, that I have never used county vehicles to run errands or to perform any of the activities connected with my campaign. In fact, the only persons who are perhaps shortchanged because of my seeking higher office would be my family, since I have always used official time off or vacation to run my campaign affairs."

Ayala charged that Lewis was guilty of such practices, claiming he had seen the assemblyman "use a state car" in his campaign.

"Why don't these people ask him to resign," Ayala said.

Lewis denied the accusation he had used a state car, and said that if Ayala had "evidence of that kind he should bring it forth and air it publicly."

Gunman robs Upland market

UPLAND — A man, armed with a 9 m.m. automatic pistol, walked into the 7-11 Store at 1549 W. Seventh St. here early Friday morning and robbed a store clerk of a small amount of cash, police reported.

Police said the gunman was described by clerk Richard Barlow as a Caucasian, 24, 5 feet 9 or 5 feet 10, 6 feet, wearing a green army jacket and dark green corduroy trousers. He had a goatee split in the middle. He was last seen running eastbound on Seventh Street about 5:45 a.m.

Another recall for carmaker; this one of 782,000 vehicles

DETROIT (UPI) — In its second recall in a week and the fourth major one of the year, General Motors announced recently it is asking the owners of 782,000 GM cars and pickup trucks to return them to dealers because of possible suspension problems.

The company said only last Monday it was asking the owners of 22,000 compact cars and station wagons to turn their vehicles in because of suspension and brake problems.

The recall involves 1974 Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick passenger cars and pickup trucks.

The company said the problem is a possible defect in locking type nuts installed in the front suspension system.

Rowland children recreate journey of Mary and Joseph

L A PUENTE — Nightly until Christmas Eve a procession of children is wending its way through neighborhood streets, recreating the journey of Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem.

The children carry lighted candles and clay figures of Mary and Joseph.

The boys and girls are students enrolled in federally funded programs in the Rowland Unified ,School District. They are celebrating the traditional Mexican "Las Posadas."

They start out each evening at sunset, seeking lodgings for Mary and Joseph. Two children carry a small litter on which the clay figures rest.

Houses at which they call are prearranged. At first the children are turned away, but as the householder becomes convinced of the importance of the request, the door opens and the children are admitted amidst great rejoycing.

Upon entering the home, the children kneel in front of a manger (Pacimiento) to pray. The host serves refreshments. There is singing and dancing.

Then, amid great excitement, a pinata is broken.

Hosts participating in the program are Mr. and Mrs. Jaime Salgado, Alice Lopez, Miriam R. Nieves, Mrs. James Walsh, Mrs. Laura Junken, Mr. and Mrs. Ocran Shepherd, Mrs. Arnold Lucero, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Cloney, Mr. and Mrs. Marcelino Rodriguez, Mr. and Mrs. Santos Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. William Barrios and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Gastellu.

Young bicyclist hurt in collision

ONTARIO — A 15-year-old Ontario youth suffered a broken leg Thursday evening when a car collided with his bicycle in the 1300 block of W. B Street was listed in satisfactory condition at Montclair Doctors Hospital Friday.

John David Pauley, 15, 1193 E. G St., according to police, was riding his bicycle eastbound on G Street when he suddenly turned left into the path of a car driven by David Lee Wright, 24, of 9215 Hemlock St., Cucamonga.

City establishes trash pickup site

POMONA — A transfer station for trash pickups will be operated at 1616 E. Seventh St. Sundays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. by Duran and Sons Refuse Disposal Co.

The charge will be $3 for a load of up to three cubic yards and $1 for each additional cubic yard.

Man with knife sought in holdup

CUCAMONGA — West End sheriff's deputies are searching for a man armed with an eight-inch hunting knife who robbed a clerk at the J and R Wine and Beer store, 8151 Ninth St. here Thursday afternoon.

Deputies said a man walked into the liquor store about 2 p.m. grabbed the store clerk, Julia Guttero, by the throat, and, threatening her with a knife, ordered her to open the cash register.

Miss Guttero said the man scooped up the cash from the register and ran outside and got into a car driven by another man.

Griffith Observatory director to give lecture series in Claremont

CLAREMONT — "Relativity and Cosmology," a series of six Thursday evening lectures by Dr. William J. Kaufmann, director of the Griffith Observatory, will be presented in Garrison Theater of the Claremont Colleges starting Jan. 24.

The program is offered by the UCLA Extension as a one unit (quarter system) credit, but it is a nontechnical lecture series open to the public. The fee is $25. When the series was offered at UCLA last year, the 1,100-seat auditorium was sold out weeks in advance.

"When you look out into the night sky and see a star which, for example, is 10 light years away, you are actually seeing how that star looked 10 years ago," Kaufmann says. "The light which is striking your eyes left that star 10 years earlier. Therefore, in a real sense, when you look out into space you are looking backwards in time. From this simple example we see that on the astronomical scale, time and space are intimately related."

The lectures will take up gravity, Einstein's theory of relativity, "warped" space, stellar evolution, white dwarfs, pulsars, black holes, glaxies, quasars, and the "big bang" and "steady state" theories of the origin of the universe.

Persons interested in signing up for the six lectures can write Box 24901, Dept. K, UCLA Extension, Los Angeles 90024.

Police apparently have his number

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — It looks like police have Anthony H. Stokes' number, but definitely.

Stokes received national publicity last month when he stopped a state trooper and tried to cite the officer for speeding after the speed limit was lowered in connection with the energy crisis.

Since then, Stokes, 39, has received two citations — for speeding. One was issued by Seattle police and the other by Bellevue officers. He plans to fight the latest citation in police court.

Home handbook now available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has announced publication of its annual "Handbook for the Home," a yearbook designed to show families how to use their incomes to best advantage.

The increase in the cost of living is reflected in the price of this year's 388-page volume. Copies will sell for $5.70, an increase of $2.20 over last year.

It will be the first increase in price for the book since 1969, when it rose from $3.00 to $3.50. The biggest selling yearbook was in 1965, when the public bought 125,396 copies. More than 68,000 copies were sold last year.

The department ordered 251,152 copies this year of which 233,450 will be given free to Congress for distribution to constitutents. Another 6,152 copies will be distributed among various governmental agencies.

Jobless trucker plays Santa role

POMONA — The happiest time of the year has arrived for Jess Noriega of Pomona, a truck driver now unemployed because of the fuel shortage.

It's Christmas, the time wishes come true for children, and Noriega has a starring role. He is a Santa Claus. This is his seventh year in that role.

"I enjoy kids, very much," said the tall, medium-built man, who keeps his white hair and beard long year-round.

"I really do look forward to Christmas."

Noriega has 14 Santa engagements this month. He is visiting rest homes, homes for handicapped children, homes for the mentally retarded, Cub Scout packs, public and Catholic school rooms and on Monday, he will be Santa at the annual Christmas party at Casa Colina Hospital.

At that party, planned for 1:30 p.m., Noriega will be aided by the Assisteens, teenage members of the Upland Assistance League auxiliary, in distributing gifts to 250 persons.

A handicapped child launched Noriega's career as a Santa. It was his own son.

"My boy will be 18," said Noriega. "He is in a home in Pomona. He needs constant care. The first time I played Santa was for him. And then others started asking me."

Noriega and his wife, Angelina, have four sons, three daughters and seven grandchildren. They have lived in Pomona 11 years.

Small children hold a special place in Noriega's heart.

"One little boy, climbed upon my lap. He pulled my whiskers, and when they didn't come off his eyes opened wide and he said, 'You're the real Santa. How old are you, 100?"

"Oh, I'm older than that, I told him."

Up until three years ago Noriega rented his Santa suit. Then he bought one. It now hangs permanently in his closet.

Bethlehem wonders where tourists went

BETHLEHEM, Israeli-occupied Jordan (UPI) — On the surface, Bethlehem is laughing, preparing to celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace nearly 2,000 years ago.

The red, green, and white festival lights adorn Manger Square as they have in years past.

Workmen put up the wooden stage near the square as they have done for hundreds of years in the week before Christmas.

And the mayor of the town where Jesus was born talks joyfully about the ceremonies planned for Christmas Eve, 1973.

A closer look, however, shows that Bethlehem is a tourist town suffering from a troublesome lack of tourists because of October's Middle East war.

The shopowners, polishing their statues of Jesus, Mary and Joseph in mother of pearl and olive wood, feel the effects the most.

"We just don't have that many customers," said George S. Diek, who with his son Mike owns a souvenir shop on Milk Grotto street near Manger Square. "Usually our shop would be very, very crowded at this time of year."

Mayor Elias Friej ordinarily looks forward to Christmas and the worldwide attention it brings to his little, hilly town of 25,000 just south of Jerusalem.

But the mayor expects only half the usual 10,000 pilgrims will come to his town this Christmas because of the recent war that has cut into the tourist trade.

Security guards will be on hand to prevent Arab guerrillas from disturbing the occasion, military officials said and the mayor was optimistic.

"I expect nothing will happen because the word Christmas means peace," said Friej.

Friej sent a letter to U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim in Geneva, expressing his "sincere wishes for the success of the Geneva (Middle East) peace conference."

The mayor said he "looked forward to a durable and just peace between Arabs and Jews for the benefit of all mankind." And the return of the tourists.

'$6 million man' topic in TV Week

Lee Majors and "The Six Million Dollar Man" are cover and cover close-up subjects in Sunday's TV Week in the Progress-Bulletin. The program will air on ABC Fridays at 8:30 p.m. starting in January.

The story centers around Steve Austin, an astronaut and test pilot, who crashes during a test flight and is left as "human scrap."

At a cost of 6 million, an aero-medical team rebuilds him through the science of bionics. In his re-made state, Austin can see in the dark and has bionics arm which gives him the strength of 20 men.

Two Christmas specials highlight the inside color page. They are "A Dream for Christmas," to be presented Monday at 9 p.m. on ABC, and "From All of Us to All of You," a Disney special to be aired Sunday at 7:30 p.m. on NBC.

Job extended for Claremont school chief

CLAREMONT — Claremont school board has extended to July 1, 1978, the contract of Supt. Richard S. Kirkendall.

Kirkendall was named superintendent in March 1970 when John B. Brinegar resigned. He had served as deputy superintendent since July 1, 1967.

Prior to that, he was principal of Sycamore School for four years.

Dr. Kirkendall, a veteran of the U.S. Navy, received his Ph.D. in educational administration in 1966 from Claremont Graduate School. He is married and has three sons and a daughter.

City engineer division aids family of six

POMONA — With the delivery Thursday of a Christmas dinner and individual gifts for a needy family of six, the Engineering Division of the Public Works Department continued a tradition that was started 17 years ago.

Division personnel have been doing this each year for the past 17 years and during the Vietnam conflict also every year mailed 20 pounds of candy to an enlisted man from Pomona.

Scripps prof in technology talk

CLAREMONT — Bradford B. Blaine, associate professor of medieval history at Scripps College, has organized and will chair a session on "Medieval Technology and Social Change: The Uses of a Concept" at the Dec. 29 annual meeting of the Society for the History of Technology in San Francisco.

Ganesha's Broderick Hunter and Cleve Porter led the Giants to a 61-53 win over Covina Friday night to win the Tournament of Champions Consolation title.

WALNUT — Maybe next year they'll change the name of the San Dimas Tournament of Champions to the San Dimas Tournament of Cardiac Arrests.

After all, that's what all six of the coaches playing in the final round suffered from Friday night at Mt. San Antonio College.

But most important of all, the tournament crowned a new champion.

Verbum Dei, the defending CIF 4-A champions, kept its unbeaten season intact by nipping defending tournament champion Morningside in an exciting, 65-63 overtime contest.

What was unbelievable was that Pasadena and St. Elizabeth of Oakland went into two overtimes before Pasadena could walk away with a 67-64 victory just prior to the championship game. That gave the Bulldogs third place in the tourney.

And the Ganesha Giants didn't walk away empty-handed either.

Ganesha, after losing to Pasadena in the opening round and knocking off San Dimas Thursday night in the second round, captured the consolation title by tripping Covina, 61-53.

Roy Hamilton of Verbum Dei, who gave the Eagles new life late in the fourth quarter against Morningside, was named the Most Valuable Player of the Tournament.

Sports

Other first-team all-tournament members included Mike Santos of Morningside, Oscar Williams of Morningside, Louis Woods of St. Elizabeth, Cleve Porter of Ganesha and Michael Grey of Pasadena.

Second-team selections for all-tournament were Mike Lewis and David Greenwood of Verbum Dei, Ollie Matson Jr. of Murphy, Broderick Hunter of Ganesha and Rod Littlepage of Covina.

Verbum Dei and Morningside battled neck-and-neck through the first eight minutes of play in the title game, with the champion Eagles holding a 16-14 lead at the end of the quarter.

It wasn't until midway through the second period that Morningside, which had beaten Verbum Dei last year for the tournament title, finally took the upper hand—taking a six-point lead.

Verbum Dei couldn't pull in the slack before halftime and trailed by eight points at intermission, 34-26.

The Eagles had to play catch-up ball throughout the rest of the game, having trailed by 10 points in the third stanza and 12 points early in the fourth.

But that's when Verbum Dei started its comeback.

The Eagles, behind two field goals by Keith Anderson, cut the lead to six points, 56-50, with 4:15 remaining in the game.

Then Hamilton took over.

With the Eagles trailing by a 58-52 margin a minute later, Hamilton hit the next two field goals to put Verbum Dei only two points back with two minutes left.

Forty-five seconds later Hamilton tossed in the bucket which tied the score at 60, and after Morningside's Santos scored, Verbu mDei's Mike Cry threw the game into overtime with a field with 40 seconds left.

Morningside called two time outs and tried for the last shot, but it came up short and Greenwood rebounded.

Santos scored the first tally in the overtime with a free throw to give Morningside the 63-62 lead. But Anderson put the Eagles ahead again with a field goal 45 seconds into the overtime period.

The final margin was provided by Anderson when he sank a free throw with two seconds remaining.

Ganesha had control over Covina throughout most of the game, but did have to struggle a little in the closing minutes of the fourth quarter when the Colts threatened to take the lead.

The Giants bolted to a 10-point lead halfway through the second period, 25-15, as Porter scored six of Ganesha's first eight points of the quarter.

Covina didn't really threaten after that until late in the third quarter. Ganesha again held a 10-point advantage early in the stanza, and opened it up to a 15-point cushion early in the fourth when reserve Howard Love put in two consecutive field goals.

Covina closed the gap to three points, 56-53, with 2:50 left in the game. But Giant guard Earl Wilson pushed the Giants to a six-point lead with a field goal and a free throw.

The Giants then played ball-control and won it by eight points.

"We let down a little in the third quarter," stated Ganesha coach Gary Fulkerson. "I don't know if it was because we were tired or what. I guess the guys figured they were far enough ahead and decided to sit on the lead.

"I think Wilson played his best overall game of the year," he added. "It may not have been his best game shooting-wise, but it was his best overall performance."

Wilson and Hunter led the Giants in scoring with 15 points, and Porter added 13 in the winning cause.

St. Elizabeth's Dave Steward came crashing down on the 6-foot Bulldog guard just after he got his shot off. Hudson came off the floor and added a three-throw to give Pasadena the three-point victory.

ASU beats Pitt, 28 - 7

TEMPE, Ariz. (UPI) — Arizona State, its high-powered offense stymied through three quarters by penalties and turnovers, came up with three fourth-quarter touchdowns to defeat Pittsburgh 28-7 in the third annual Fiesta Bowl Friday night.

Danny White, chased 20 yards behind the line of scrimmage by Mike Bulino, lofted a pass covering 60 yards to Greg Hudson in the end zone with 10:54 left in the game to start the fireworks and put the Sun Devils ahead 16-7.

Woody Green added touchdown runs of 23 and one yards to clinch the victory for 10th-ranked Arizona State.

Green's 23-yard run came 76 seconds after the White-to-Hudson pass and on Arizona State's first play after Neal Skarin blocked a Pitt punt. The final touchdown was set up by a 50-yard pass from White to Morris Owens that gave ASU a first down at the Panthers' one.

The anticipated offensive show got off to a good start when both teams scored in the first two and one-half minutes of play, then became bogged down in a match of turnovers.

Pittsburgh freshman Tony Dorsett opened the scoring 47 seconds into the game, going in from the 12 on two carries after White fumbled the snap on the first play from scrimmage. Less than two minutes later, Green went over right tackle from the three to climax a 73-yard drive on four plays, highlighted by a 51-yard pass from White to Hudson.

The next score did not emerge until freshman Danny Kush, son of ASU coach Frank Kush, booted a 30-yard field goal to put the Devils ahead 10-7 with 1:29 left in the third quarter.

Arizona State, the nation's total offense and scoring leader, was charged with seven turnovers in the contest while Pitt had eight, including two interceptions and a fumble recovery by ASU cornerback Mike Haynes.

The Sun Devils did not convert a third down situation until midway in the third quarter and wound up with 433 yards total offense, more than 100 yards below their season average.

Green carried for 131 yards on 25 tries to win the battle with Dorsett between the two second team All-Americans. Dorsett had 100 yards on 30 carries. White, also a second team All-America selection, completed 14 of 19 pass for 269 yards.

Arizona State, which has hosted the Fiesta Bowl as Western Athletic Conference champion all three years, boosted its record to 12-1 for the season. Pittsburgh fell to 6-5-1 in its comeback from a 1-9 record in 1972.

Cal Poly wins close one in edging No. Dakota

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

POMONA — Cal Poly found out Friday night it can win the close basketball games.

In the most exciting contest of the early season, the Broncos edged touring North Dakota State, 87-85, at Kellogg Gym in a fast-paced contest in which neither team cared about defense.

Obviously, Poly needed the victory to salvage a rugged week. With the win, the Broncos take a 3-4 season record into tonight's battle with Jerry Tarkanian's talented Nevada, Las Vegas team at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Lee Roy Williams, Poly's big 6-9 center, scored a basket with 1:06 left in the game to break the 85-85 tie.

The visiting Bison had a chance to get even with 55 seconds remaining but freshman center Warner Huss missed the first of an one-and-one free throw opportunity. Teammate Mark Emerson grabbed the rebound but his shot didn't go in either as Poly's John Carrillo grabbed the ball.

Poly coach Don Hogan called for the delay game. Horace Aubrey was fouled with 11 seconds on the clock but he failed to ice the victory. Aubrey picked up his own rebound and put the ball back up only to miss again to give North Dakota State one last chance.

The Bison only had two seconds to score. Their long pass down the court went out-of-bounds as Poly was able to celebrate.

Both teams traded the lead all night. North Dakota State owned the biggest margin at 40-30 but Poly cut the margin to 51-49 at halftime.

Williams led Poly by making 10 of 13 shots for 20 points and nine rebounds. Aubrey (19), Art Williams (16) and Malcolm Kennedy (14) also tallied in double figures with Art Williams leading in rebounds with 11.

Emerson, a good outside shooter, connected for 26 points, 16 in the first half, to pace the Bison attack. Coach Marv Skaar used an ironman approach with only six players seeing action.

"It was hard to prepare for this game," Hogan said, "since we knew nothing about them. We went to a man-to-man defense tonight because we needed to work on it for conference play. We gave up too many points."

Buckeyes slip on grass at Citrus practice field

AZUSA, Calif. (UPI) — Woody Hayes put his Ohio State team through its first Rose Bowl practice in Southern California Friday, intent on working the squad back into shape.

"Our first priority is to get into good shape," said Hayes. "We haven't played a football game since a month ago tomorrow."

The Buckeyes, who meet the University of Southern California in the Jan. 1 classic, haven't played since their 10-10 tie with Michigan Nov. 24.

Hayes was also concerned with his team's transition from the Big Ten's artificial playing surfaces to the natural grass in the Rose Bowl.

"I'm amazed at how much the players slip on grass," Hayes said during the workout at Citrus College. "We'll just have to get used to that."

Asked to rate his sophomore running back, Archie Griffin, Hayes said:

"Number one, he has great character. As a runner, he combines exceptional speed, balance and a sense of timing with his strength."

Asked to compare Griffin with past great Big Ten runners, Hayes, said, "I'll tell you more about that after this game."

Fullback Champ Henson was back in uniform for the Buckeyes, and Hayes said he expects the fullback to see action Jan. 1. Henson has been out since the Buckeyes' second game of the season, when he suffered a knee injury.

"He's a little awkward yet and his timing isn't perfect, but I'm pretty certain he will play and help us," Hayes said.

The only other ailing Buckeye is starting linebacker Vic Koegle, who fractured a toe during workouts before the team came to California. Koegle is expected to play in the Rose Bowl.

The squad commences a busy schedule of social appearances Saturday with their traditional trip to Disneyland. In addition to their morning workouts, the squad will visit Marineland on Sunday, attend a Johnny Carson Show taping Wednesday, visit Universal Studios on Thursday and attend a Big Ten dinner Friday. The team will not be allowed out on the town after Friday night, Hayes said. The Buckeyes will hold practice on Monday, Christmas Eve, but will have the day off Christmas Day.

Howard named at Long Beach

LONG BEACH (UPI) — University of California at Riverside coach Wayne Howard was named head football coach at Long Beach State Friday, replacing retiring Jim Strangeland.

Howard, 42, compiled a 17-3 record at Riverside during his two years there. Last year his Riverside team was 9-1 and captured the California Collegiate Athletic Association title.

Before going to UCR, Howard was head coach at Gavilan College in Gilroy, Calif. and compiled a mark of 37-18 during his six years there. His overall coaching record stands at 104 wins, 40 losses and three ties.

Is home field playoff key?

By United Press International

Just how important is the home field advantage in pro football?

That could be the key question this weekend when the National Football League starts its "second season" with four nationally televised playoff games.

George Allen's bid for his first playoff win ever on the road and a replay of one of the most celebrated games in NFL history will be on tap today when Minnesota hosts Washington at 1 p.m. EST and Oakland entertains Pittsburgh at 4 p.m. EST.

The weekend of playoff action concludes Sunday when Cincinnati is at Miami and Los Angeles is at Dallas.

All four home teams are favored this weekend but the home field edge could be particularly crucial in the Minnesota-Washington and Oakland-Pittsburgh games.

Minnesota is favored by a touchdown and Oakland is a four-point choice. On Sunday, Miami is favored by nine and Dallas by two.

Allen, the coach of the Washington Redskins, who is aware of every possible advantage, has a 2-4 record in playoff competition with all four losses coming on the road.

Both of the victories came at home last season when the Redskins beat Green Bay and Dallas at RFK Stadium in Los Angeles before losing to Miami in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles. Allen said the boost from the home fans helped the Redskins chalk up those two victories.

When Allen was coaching the Los Angeles Rams, his team lost in the playoffs in Green Bay in 1967 and in Minnesota in 1969. After he moved to Washington, the Redskins were beaten in San Francisco in 1972 before making it to the Super Bowl with the two home field wins last year.

Minnesota is always supposed to have quite an advantage at home in late December where stern coach Bud Grant refuses to let the players use such things as heaters and gloves on the sidelines.

"Cold is a state of mind," insists Grant.

But in the Vikings' last two playoff games in 1971 and 1972, they've been beaten at home by San Francisco 17-14 and Dallas 20-12. Neither of those teams was supposed to be a good cold weather team and those two losses punctured some of the aura of invicibility the Vikings had built up at home.

Of course, the home field advantage in the Oakland-Pittsburgh game could be crucial.

The Raiders still claim they lost last year's celebrated deflected-pass game because the officials were intimidated by the partisan Pittsburgh crowd and refused to rule Franco Harris' late touchdown illegal.

That's the game when a deflected Terry Bradshaw pass to John Fuqua was scooped up by Harris, who ran for the winning TD. The Raiders claimed the ball didn't touch a Raider player (Jack Tatum) after it touched Fuqua and was an illegal play.

Also, the night before the game a Raider (Bob Moore) was accidentally beaten by police when they were controlling a demonstration of Steeler fans in front of the Oakland hotel.

Tempers between the two teams flared even more this year when Pittsburgh beat the Raiders in Oakland but charged the Raiders were guilty of "dirty tricks" like using an underinflated ball and having grease on their jerseys. Oakland was absolved of all blame by a league investigation.

Another controversy arose last Sunday when Pittsburgh tried to smuggle in three assistants into the Oakland press box on press credentials to scout the Denver game. But Oakland officials ejected them. The Pro Football Writers Association is protesting this action because the writers didn't know their names were being used.

This will be the fourth meeting between these two teams in the last two seasons and the Steelers have won the first three—although the Raiders still aren't convinced they really lost the Harris play.

Dallas and Los Angeles played once during the season with Los Angeles winning 37-31 on four John Hadl to Harold Jackson touchdown passes in Los Angeles. The Cowboys, with the home field edge, are slight favorites to reverse that decision.

However, the Dallas playoff record at home isn't any better than it is on the road. When the Cowboys lost the two famous games each to Green Bay and Cleveland, the first and the fourth losses were at home.

In 1970 and 1971 when the Cowboys won two playoff games en route to the Super Bowl, one was at home and one on the road each year. Last year the Cowboys were on the road for two games as a wild card team and split them, beating San Franciso with a late comeback before losing to Washington.

Miami, of course, would be favored regardless of where the Dolphins were playing. Cincinnati was the surprise team of the season, winning the AFC Central crown but the Bengals are the biggest underdogs this weekend.

Toledo tabbed at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Robert Toledo, former recordsetting quarterback at San Francisco State, was named new head football coach at UC Riverside Friday.

Toledo, 27, replaces Wayne Howard, who resigned Friday to take the head coaching post at Cal State Long Beach.

SCROOGE?—"My name is Charlie O. Finley, not Santa Claus", said Finley Friday after AL exec Joe Cronin ruled that Dick Williams could not jump his contract with the A's. Finley said as far as he's concerned Williams is still his manager.

Finley still adamant

NEW YORK (UPI) — A feisty Charles O. Finley Friday showed no signs of softening in his stand to keep manager Dick Williams in an Oakland A's uniform.

"Williams was my manager yesterday, he's my manager today and he'll be my manager tomorrow," Finley said emphatically from his home in LaPorte, Ind..

Until Thursday, it was uncertain whether Williams was Finley's manager or would be the New York Yankees' field leader since both had him under contract. But American League president Joe Cronin made a clear-cut decision that Williams belonged to Finley.

After earlier bargaining with the Yankees for compensation to release the Oakland manager from his contract with the A's, Finley now says he may not accept any form of compensation for Williams.

"That's entirely possible," affirmed the A's scrappy owner.

Finley is now saying Williams may the A's manager when the baseball season opens next year.

Williams, however, has said emphatically he will never work for Finley again, even if it means staying out of baseball for two years.

"Don't you worry about that —let me worry about that," said Finley. "And I'm not worried. Let Williams worry about that."

When asked if he would really want a disgruntled manager on his hands next season, Finley grew angry.

"When I hear all this bull about how Williams won't be happy, I could care less. Let me tell you, I could care less if Mr. Williams is happy. Anything that has occurred was caused by Mr. Williams and the Yankees."

Finley declined to comment on how long he could afford to battle with Williams for his services as the A's manager before having to name a successor to guide the world champions.

"I'll stand on what I said earlier. Williams was my manager yesterday, he's my manager today and he'll be my manager tomorrow."

While Finley was taking his stand in Indiana, the Yankees were very indecisive in New York. A spokesman for the club said that the Yankees "were considering the various options open to them" and the club would probably not announce any decision before Christmas.

"We don't know which way we'll go," said the spokesman.

And baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn was continuing to reserve judgment on the whole affair.

UCLA streak reaches 80, Walton, as usual, dominates

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — All-America center Bill Walton equalled his season high of 25 points and grabbed 15 rebounds Friday night as No. 1-ranked UCLA crushed Ohio University 110-63.

Walton, who sat out the last 9:39 of the contest, hit all 11 of his field goal attempts. Bruin forward Keith Wilkes had 14 points and forward Dave Meyers and guard Pete Trgovich scored 12 apiece.

The victory was the fifth of the season for UCLA and extended their record-breaking winning streak to 80 games. UCLA has captured seven consecutive national titles and nine in the past ten years.

Ohio's attack was led by sophomore guard Walter Luckett, who scored 21 points, 13 in the first half. Forward Ulice Payne had 13 points for the Bobcats and forward George Greene added nine.

The Bruins appeared momentarily flat after last week's win over North Carolina State and turned the ball over repeatedly in the opening minutes. They allowed Ohio to stay even at 10-10 until Wilkes hit an eight foot jumper with 12:53 remaining.

UCLA then outscored the Bobcats 15-1 in the next four minutes and pulled into a 48-29 lead at halftime. The Bruins' 62-point second half was their highest total for a half this year.

The Bruins play host to undefeated St. Bonaventure tonight, while Ohio travels across town to face University of Southern California.

Lambert leads USC over Houston, 92-78

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Lambert, a 6-10 junior forward, scored a career high 28 points Friday night as University of Southern California whipped Houston, 92-78.

Lambert's previous high was 23 against Oregon State here last January. Four of his field goals were awarded on goaltending calls against overeager Cougars. Lambert has also collected 11 rebounds.

Dan Anderson scored 16 points in the Trojans fifth victory in six games.

Otis Birdsong and Maurice Presley led Houston with 22 and 19 points respectively.

Lambert was unstoppable in the first half, scoring 20 of his points. He tallied the first field goal of the game and connected on nine of 13 first half shots to propel the Trojans to a 46-34 halftime lead.

'Hens outclassed by UCR

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

RIVERSIDE — After playing UC Riverside in the championship game of the Cal Baptist College Christmas Tournament, Pomona-Pitzer knows how 80 straight teams have felt about UCLA—outclassed.

The Sagehens really had nothing to lose Friday night as they were decided underdogs against the strong Highlanders, but coach Les Nagler didn't want the Hens to lay an egg, which they almost did.

"I guess we were too keyed up at the start of things," said Nagler after dropping the one-sided contest 84-58. "Maybe we were halfway expecting some of our shots to be blocked when they weren't."

What Nagler was disappointingly thinking about was the first five minutes when the Hens fell behind 12-0, exactly as they did Wednesday against Cal St. Dominguez. But teams can't really rally against Freddie Goss' team. Not the way they play defense.

Pomona simply couldn't do anything right offensively in the first part of the game as the Hens missed their first 11 shots, four of them being easy layups. And then after scoring twice, Riverside went on another 10 point spree to make it 24-4 and all that was left for the fans to stick around and watch was the naming of the All-Tourney team and the Most Valuable Player. Both are interesting.

Pomona-Pitzer placed two men on the All-Tourney quintet—Norm Carter and Geoff Northrop, the freshman center from La Jolla, was named on every ballot of the coaches—the only player to be so honored.

The MVP for the tourney was Bobby Walters of UCR. The interesting part is that Walters didnt didn't start any of the three games, but was the leading scorer for his team in each case, finishing with 14 against the Hens.

Northrop was the leading scorer for the Pomona in the tourney as he rang up 63 points in the three games but only 12 during the championship tilt.

The Sagehens center was unusually off in his shooting during the opening 20 minutes as he made only two of nine from the field and got into foul trouble by picking up his fourth personal in the final minute.

The second half was much better all the way around as Pomona outscored the winners 40-35 with Northrop going three for three. Carter was the leading Hen scorer with 14 while Northrop controlled the boards with a game high total of 13.

La Verne, seeking its third consecutive consolation championship, fell to Fresno Pacific 66-54.

Garey wins 81-67

Garey High continued their winning tourney ways while Damien, Pomona, and Upland were defeated in Friday's basketball frays.

Garey beat Bullard of Fresno, 81-67, in the second round of the Las Vegas Holiday Warrior Tourney while Damien was beaten by Notre Dame, 80-66, in the Pius X Tourney. In the two non-league contests involving San Antonio League teams, Burbank got by Pomona, 65-60, and Chaffey used the same margin to down Upland, 76-71.

Garey rode Delbert McDonald's 23 points and Gary Carpenter's 20 to ease past Bullard. The game was close at the half, with Bullard actually holding a 43-36 edge, but the Vikes outscored the Fresno school 22-10 in the third quarter and won going away.

Steve Bailey tossed in all eight of his points in that third period to spark the Vikings. Ron Mitchell led Bullard scoring with 21 points.

Garey will meet Western of Las Vegas, the top-ranked Nevada team, tonight at 8:45 p.m. for the Warrior Tourney crown.

Burbank used a 23-18 fourth quarter edge to beat Pomona 65-60. Mike Yarborough led the Devil scoring with 19 points while guard Bill Clark of Burbank led all scorers with 21.

Derrick Thomas came off the bench to dump in 18 points in a losing cause, as the Pomona won-loss mark for the season dipped to 5-5.

Notre Dame used a big 26-9 first quarter edge to dump Damien in the Pius X Tourney. Ara Devian topped a balanced Notre Dame attack with 13 points, while Ralph Lilly added 12.

Brian Krueger led Damien scoring with 13 points, and Larry Pekarick had a good night on the boards with 16 rebounds.

Damien will play St. John Bosco tonight at 6:30 p.m. for the consolation crown.

Mark McQuaid hit for 17 points off the bench as Chaffey beat Upland 76-71 in a rugged contest marred by a total of 51 fouls.

A 24-13 first quarter lead turned out to be the margin of victory for the Tigers, who held off Upland the rest of the way.

In addition to McQuaid, Brian Jacobs had 16 and Dave Narasky had 12 for the Tigers.

Orien Ogg led all scorers with his 20 markers for Upland, with Curt Oldenkamp right behind with 19 points.

Upland is now 7-3 on the season while Chaffey advances to a 6-2 mark.

Walnut advances to Laguna finals

Four valley teams split decisions in tournament play Friday night.

Walnut edged University, 55-54, to advance to the finals of the Laguna Beach Basketball Tournament while Ontario lost to Sierra Vista. Western Christian captured the Consolation title of the Valley Christian tourney via a 52-48 win over Chaminade and Rowland was eliminated from the Troy Tourney by La Puente Wilson.

Kirk Christ tossed in 22 points to lead Walnut to its one point win over University.

The Mustangs trailed 48-41 entering the fourth quarter and outscored University 14-6.

Walnut will play Laguna Beach tonight at 9 p.m. for the championship.

Sierra Vista placed four individuals in double figures as the Dons routed Ontario, 76-54.

Mike Howard was the leading SV scorer with 19 points while Joe Jefferson tallied 15 for Ontario.

The Jaguars (2-5) meet the loser of the Miraleste—Norwalk game for seventh place at 3 p.m.

Jaguar coach Pat Partington experimented with his offense, alternating five-man squads every four minutes. The move was unsuccessful until the fourth quarter when Ontario produced 21 points.

Bruce Sider and Sam Shumaker combined for 36 points to lead Western Christian to the Consolation title in the Valley Christian tourney.

Sider scored 21 points, and connected on eight of 16 field goal attempts while Shumaker tossed in 15 points and grabbed 22 rebounds.

Coach Les Holstein's Lancers (7-2) return home Thursday for an 8 p.m. contest with Rio Hondo.

Rowland was eliminated from the Troy tourney as the result of a 56-52 setback to La Puente Wilson.

The Raiders fought back from a 31-23 halftime deficit to tie the game with two minutes left in the game before falling to the Wildcats.

Wilson's John Gagne took game-scoring honors with 22 points while Mike Street added 14 Robert Malave and Glenn Thompson paced the Raiders with 16 and 12 points, respectively.

Sonics did not 'dump' NBA game

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Seattle Supersonics assistant general manager Bob Waslh said Friday an investigation by the National Basketball Association turned up no evidence that the Sonics deliberately lost a game to the Philadelphia 76ers last season.

Walsh said a statement to that effect had been released in New York Friday by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

"Basically it says that the thorough and detailed investigation that they have been working on for about two weeks now has produced no evidence to support the allegations," Walsh said.

The issue was first aired in an article in a national magazine written by Bob Briner, former vice president and general manager of Dallas of the American Basketball Association.

Briner charged that the Sonics "dumped a game" against the 76ers in an attempt to get Seattle coach Tom Nissalke fired.

Guards pace Lakers' win

INGLEWOOD, alif. (UPI) — Gail Goodrich tossed in 27 points and Jim Price added a career high 25 Friday night as the Laker guards led Los Angeles to a 116-107 win over the Philadelphia 76ers.

In a balanced scoring attack, both Happy Hairston and Elmore Smith added 20 points as the Lakers regained first place in the Pacific Division. In addition to his 20 points, Hairston pulled down a season high 29 rebounds.

Hairston's eighth point of the night, midway through the second period, enabled him to become the 56th man in NBA history to reach the 10,000-point mark for his career.

SPORTS NEWS IN BRIEF

THE PROPOSED move of the San Diego Padres to Washington, D.C. was dealt a stunning setback Friday night when the new owners, headed by Joseph Danzansky, could not meet certain financial conditions specified by the National League owners.

The sale to the Washington group was made on the provision that they would hold the National League harmless from any liability resulting from the transfer. Charles Feeney, N.L. President, said the group had informed him that they could not keep their end of the bargain, and so the transfer to Washington now appears doubtful.

LEE KUNZMAN was taken out of the intensive care unit at San Antonio Community Hospital and placed in a private room. Kunzman's doctor said the U. S. Auto Club veteran may be released next week.

A TEAM of 40 U. S. Collegiate golfers completed an easy victory over a Japanese team Friday at Ontario National Golf Course. The U. S. posted an 85½ to 14½ point margin in the matches.

QUARTERBACK DON Gaffney worked out Friday with his U. of Florida teammates and Gator coach Doug Dickey said Gaffney would start tonight's Tangerine Bowl game against unbeated Miami of Ohio.

EDDIE CROWDER, who complied the winningest record in U. of Colorado football history, is expected to resign as head coach this weekend.

Crowder will reportedly remain as Athletic Director at the school, it was learned Friday.

JOHN VAUGHT, forced to retire as head coach at Mississippi in 1970 by a heart attack, but pressed back into service again last fall, announced Friday that he is retiring again. Vaught said he would continue to serve as Athletic Director at Mississippi.

Admission will be $1.50 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12.

San Dimas spiker faces tough foes

LOS ANGELES — Who is fastest, Muir High's Alan Sheats, Bassett's Willie Davis or San Dimas' Dan Hitchens?

That's one answer which will be determined at the 15th annual Sunkist Indoor track and Field Invitational, Saturday night at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The high school athletes will warmup the crowd with marks which each year are getting better and better. Then the big-name athletes, like Steve Prefomtaine, Kenya's Ben Jipcho, Italy's Marcello Fiascanero and Belgium's Emiel Puttemans will vie in the open competition.

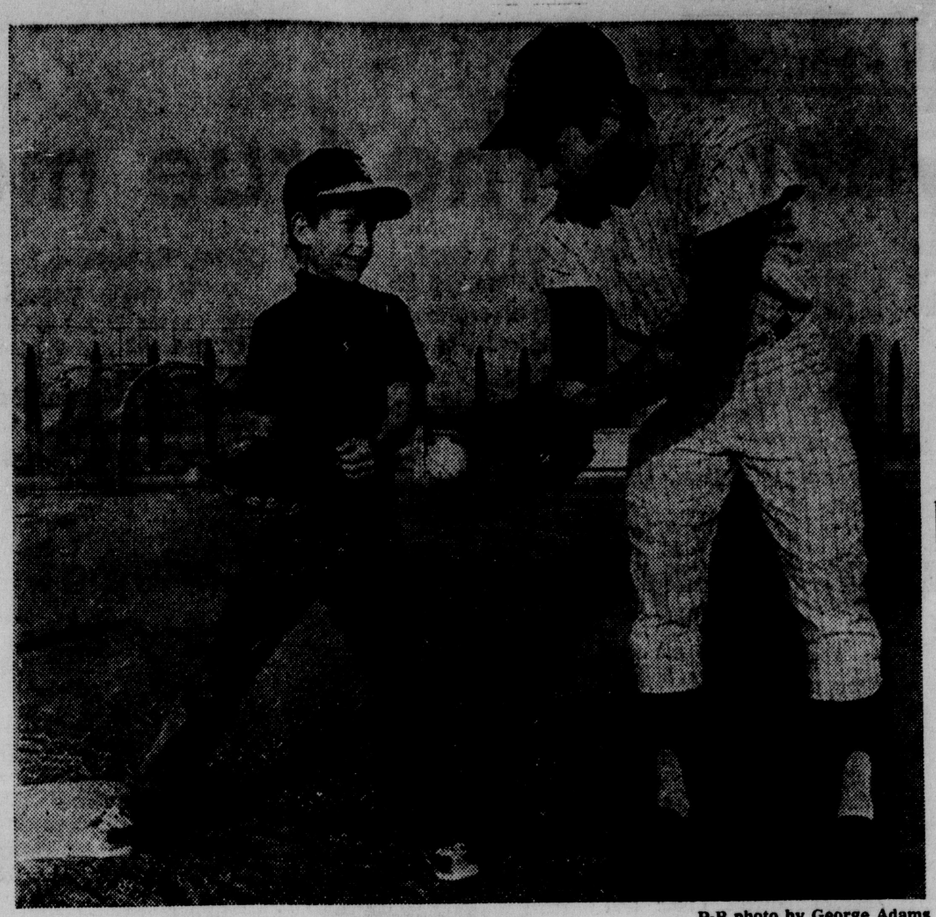

As for the question of who is faster, Sheats, Davis or Hitchens, that will be determined off results in the 600-yard run.

Sheats has the most speed for 440 yards off his best last year of 48.7. But, will he be able to handle the extra 200 yards?

Hitchens has a best of 49.8 and Davis 49.9 which make them prime challengers.

For any of the three San Gabriel Valley product to win, however, they'll have to beat Rod Connors, who is coming down from Rancho High in Cordova. He's run a 48.2 for 440 yards.

The high school portion of the meet starts at 5:45 with the open competition scheduled to begin at 7:30.

Pomona's Don Milner in Sports Illustrated

POMONA — Donny Milner, an eighth grader at Emerson Junior High has received national recognition in the Dec. 24 issue of Sports Illustrated.

Donny, 13, led the Pomona Trojans Pop Warner team to an 8-1 record this season by completing passes for 659 yards and eight touchdowns and running for 24? yards and nine TDs.

Donny was featured in the "Faces in the Crowd" section of the magazine.

The youngster plans to play freshman football at Pomona High next fall.

Last summer, Donny made the Pomona National Little League All-Star team.

MSAC's Pivac named outstanding wrestler

WALNUT — Steve Pivac, a 118-pound sophomore, was named outstanding wrestler last weekend at the Los Angeles Pierce Tournament in Woodland Hills.

Pivac led Mt. San Antonio College to a third place finsh in the 22-team event, capturing the 118-pound championship.

The former Ganesha High grappler ran his overall record for the season to 24-2, including a perfect 12-0 record in dual meet competition.

A year ago as a freshman, Pivac went 33-4 and earned a berth in the state wrestling finals.

Besides Pivac, Mike Castillo (126) and Terry Martin (142) won their respective weight classes in the Pierce Tourney. Castillo is 15-5 for the year, while Martin is 19-1. It was Castillo's first tournament championship and Martin's second.

The Mounties will be idle for the holidays, not returning to action until Jan. 5 at the Fresno State Tournament.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Texas, was all-star quarterback at the University of Oklahoma in the mid-1940s.

Rams plan ticket sales

LOS ANGELES — Should the Rams beat Dallas Sunday in the first round of the NFL playoffs, tickets for the NFC Championship Game to be held in the Coliseum Sunday, Dec. 30 would go on sale Monday at 9 a.m. at numerous Southland locations.

Tickets priced at $12, $9 and $8 can be purchased at the Rams box office, 10271 W. Pico Blvd., the Sports Arena box office and all mutual ticket agencies. All seats are reserved.

While the ticket outlets would be closed Christmas Day, sale would resume Wednesday (9 a.m.) at all locations.

Should the Rams win over the Cowboys Sunday, they would host the winner of today's Minnesota-Washington game.

Santa Anita saving fuel

ARCADIA — In support of nationwide efforts, Santa Anita Park has initiated a multi-faceted program designed to encourage its patrons to consrve fuel and energy resources by greater utilization of public transportation and car pooling during the 1973-74 Thoroughbred racing season which begins Thursday, Dec. 27.

As an incentive to more complete use of mass transit routes, Santa Anita Park, in cooperation with the Southern California Rapid Transit District and franchise bus lines, is offering racegoers traveling to and from the track by bus an exclusive discount on general admissions.

Additionally, free parking in certain lots will be promoted as available for vehicles occupied by four or more adults, representing a savings of atleast 75 cents in general parking charges.

"Certainly, there is no more urgent continuing problem confronting the world today than the current energy crisis," stated Fred H. Ryan, President of Los Angeles Turf Club, operator of the racetrack.

The State of California received $16,473,764 in tax revenue last season, while local agencies were enriched by more than $500,000 through the conduct of racing at Santa Anita Park a year ago.

Lavish outdoor displays fall to sacrifices

Focus this year on the true meaning of Christmas

"There is a possibility that the absence of lavish outdoor displays this year may lead to increased focus upon the true meaing of Christmas, officials of the Pomona Valley Council of Churches have declared.

Dr. James W. Angell, president, and Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, executive director of the council, issued a joint statement that encourages "cooperation with all proposals to conserve energy. Callous indifference to such appeals could lead to much human suffering."

"Whatever sacrifices are called for should be equalized so that none shall grow rich at the expense of others." Both men stressed that "the burden of the shortage should not fall disproportionately upon the poor."

Dr. Angell and Dr. Lenox issued a four-fold Christmas call. "We call for a rededication of our lives to the highest standards of personal and corporate morality, realizing that great civilizations of the past have collapsed not because they were militarily weak but because they were morally decadent.

— "We call for renewed devotion to the task of establishing good will among men — good-will based upon equal justice for all — regardless of color, class or creed.

— "And since Christmas marks the birthday of the Prince of Peace we call for a new pursuit of peace among all the nations.

— "Finally — we call for fervent prayers for our own land and for all the people of the world — that righteousness justice and peace may prevail in the year ahead.

"We urge" the council officials asserted, "that since Christmas is the birthday of Jesus Christ, Christians should observe the season in a manner that is in accord with the true meaning of the day. We recommend that all celebrations be free of those features which violate the spirit of this sacred season.

"On behalf of the churches we serve," Dr. Angell and Dr. Lenox concluded, "we wish for every resident of our valley a joyous and meaningful Christmas and a New Year filled to overflowing with all those things which make life worth while".

Children offer Yule story

CLAREMONT — A Christmas celebration in story and song will be featured Sunday at 9:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Youngsters of the Sunday school will make tray favors for patients at Casa Colina Hospital and will sing traditional carols during the program.

A film depicting the Christmas story in Indian tradition will also be shown.

The Chancel Choir and a women's trio will sing during the 11 a.m. worship service.

The Rev. and Mrs. Edmund H. Irvin will host an open house Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. followed by supper and a Christmas caroling party for members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship.

The annual Christmas Eve candlelight service will be held Monday at 7 p.m. Participating will be the Chancel Choir, Children's Choir and the High School Girl's Trio.

BISHOP JUAN ARZUBE

Christmas party for children

POMONA — The Organization of Latin Affairs Arzube of Sacred Heart Catholic Church will sponsor a Christmas party for children who participate in First Communion ceremonies Sunday at the church.

Bishop Juan Arzube of Los Angeles will officiate at the First Communion celebration that will be in Spanish at noon.

The Christmas part will feature tacos and enchiladas at a barbecue. Children of the school will present a program.

The party will conclude with a pinata and an appearance of Santa Claus.

Rock's namesake

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The city of Little Rock derived its name from a moss-grown rock jutting out from the Arkansas River.

The rock was both an early Indian landmark for an easy fording across the river and also a guidepost on the trail to the Ouachita Mountains.

SERMON TOPICS

Westmont United Methodist

POMONA — Children and youth will take part in the 10:30 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Westmont United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Thomas D. Dillard will discuss "God's Priceless Gift."

A family Christmas Eve candlelight musical service will be held at 7 p.m. Monday. Ron House will direct the choir in the presentation of the cantata "Born a King."

Good Shepherd Lutheran

CLAREMONT — The Rev. Lloyd E. Jacobson will discuss "The Wonder of His Coming" Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

The traditional candlelight Christmas Eve service will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Fellowship Church of Brethren

LA VERNE — Dr. Vernard Eller, professor at La Verne College, will be guest speaker Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship service at the Fellowship Church of the Brethren.

His topic will be "The Candle of Expectancy: Zechariah."

A Christmas play "The Third Miracle" will be held Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the church. A chocolate party will be held after the program.

Mel Belcher will lead the 7 p.m. service Wednesday.

Chino First Baptist Church

CHINO—Parents and children will be dedicated during the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. A. Thomas Gibbony will officiate at the ceremony and will speak on the subject "Answers Found at Bethlehem."

The Sanctuary Choir will sing directed by Craig Watkins, minister of music. Mrs. Bill Breunle will sing a Christmas solo.

The congregation will hold a joint service at the First Assembly of God Church Sunday at 6 p.m. The service will feature the choirs from both churches, soloists, duets and quartettes.

Chino United Methodist

CHINO—The Rev. Stanley Creighton will preach the concluding sermon in the advent series Sunday at the 9:30 and 10:40 a.m. worship services at the United Methodist Church.

His topic will be "Words for Advent IV, Personal."

"A Family Looks at Christmas" will be the theme of the Christmas program Sunday at 6 p.m. featuring children of the Sunday school.

A fellowship hour will be held after the program in the social hall.

A Christmas Eve Communion service will be celebrated at 11 p.m. Monday.

Towne Ave. youngsters to perform

POMONA — The Sunday school will present the annual Christmas program Sunday at 9:45 a.m. at a combined service at the Towne Avenue Church of the Nazarene.

Poems, skits and music will be featured.

After the program, the Rev. Clyde W. Rather will preach the annual Christmas message "God Came Down to Men." Mr. Rather will present members of the church staff at the close of the service.

Christmas treats will be presented after the service.

A singspiration and refreshments will be featured at the youth services at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Mr. Rather will speak on the subject "Follow the Star" Sunday at the 7 p.m. service. Christmas music will be featured.

Children featured in service

CLAREMONT — Christmas Eve services at St. Luke Lutheran Church Monday will feature a 7 p.m. children's program and an 11:30 p.m. candlelight service.

Mrs. Peter Johnston will be song leader and Mrs. Peter Moore organist for the 7 p.m. presentation of "The Christmas Story."

The Rev. Arthur Graudin will speak on the theme "Do You Have Room for Jesus?" at the 11:30 p.m. service. The Sanctuary Choir, directed by Mrs. Percy Koslosky, will sing a selection of christmas music.

"This Is Love" will be the 10 a.m. sermon theme of Pastor Graudin on Christmas Day. The Sanctuary Choir will sing.

Mandatory mileage stickers proposed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Environmental Protection Agency's administrator says that possibly the posting of gas mileage stickers on new cars should be made mandatory.

Administrator Russel E. Train told a news conference recently that "if the voluntary program does not work, we'll have to determine whether to make it mandatory."

Cars now are delivered with stickers showing what gasoline mileage can be expected but some dealers have been removing them.

First Great Lake

The first of the Great Lakes states to be discovered by a European was Michigan, probably first explored by Frenchman Etienne Brule in 1819.

Splendor of Christmas embellished with music

LA VERNE — A new handbell choir will play at the LA VERNE CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN'S Christmas Eve candlelighting service which will begin at 10 p.m.Monday.

The bell choir is directed by Miss Ruth Lininger. It was formed recently and includes children, youth and adults. The bells were given to the church as a memorial to Mrs. Maude Beckner, children's choir director for many years at the church.

Also joining in the musical presentation will be a recorder group and Sanctuary Choir.

The Rev. Leland Wilson will lead in a period of meditation.

A candlelighting participation service will follow in the patio around a fire circle.

LA VERNE — The Sanctuary Choir of the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH will present John Peterson's cantata, "Love Transcending," Sunday at 7 p.m. at the church.

Duo pianos, organ, trombones, trumpets, clarinets and flute percussions will provied the accompaniment for the Christmas service.

Soloists will include Mary Ellen McDermith, Lois Shelton and Charles Shelton.

John Shelton, music director, will be in charge.

POMONA — Four choirs will participate in the tradjtional candlelight Christmas Eve service at 7:15 p.m. Monday at the PILGRIM CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

During the service, the audience will be invited to sing favorite Christmas songs that will be projected on a large screen. LeRoy Hughes will tell the Christmas story.

Frank Cummings, minister of music, will direct the service.

The choirs taking part include the Pilgrim, Association, Choristers and Carolers choirs. Soloists will be Janet Tate, soprano; Dawn Jones, contralto; John Tate, tenor; and Richard Arnlen, baritone.

The newly organized association Choir, directed by Doreen Keepers, will be featured at the service. The choir will be accompanied by Steven Erkel, Darcy Rosen, Patti Sharp and Karen Thatcher on guitars.

Guest artists will be harpist Harriet Wood from Long Beach and violist Lori Ives of Claremont.

Other instrumentalists will be the Barfield String Quartet; Mollie Johnson and Betsy Farrand, flute; Kevin McCraken, clarinet; Randy York and H.J. Desy, trumpet; Charles Weck, French horn; Steven Hawk, trombone; Mary Lewis and Barbara Middleton, piano; and James Lane, organ.

Dolores Weck will direct several carol selections.

POMONA — The adult and youth choirs of the WHITE AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH will present John W. Peterson's cantata, "Night of Miracles," Sunday at 7 p.m. at the church.

Soloists wil include Galen Setser, baritone; Jim Dotson and Gene Pennington, bass; David Bishop, tenor; Mrs. Beverly Watson, soprano; and Miss Maxine Blackwell, alto.

Miss Laura Buchanan will be organist and Mrs. Beverly Adamson, pianist.

Mrs. Eva Setser will direct the cantata. Jim Smith Jr. is in charge of lighting.

ONTARIO — "A City of the King," a Christmas cantata by Jack Coleman, will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. at the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Coleman, who is currently serving as president of Descant Music Publishers in Orange County, will direct the production and the Chancel Choir.

The cantata was produced into an hour long television program in 1971 and has been recorded by Ralph Carmichael.

Soloists will include Richard Dastrup, Frank Alpers, Diane Meekins, Marjorie Cason and Robert Edgar.

Marjorie Hamilton will be organist and Teri Maw, pianist.

Coleman served as choral director for the televised King Family series and he has written two folk musicals for children. "The Boy Who Caught the Fish," and "Zack Jr."

POMONA — The MT. ZION MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH will present its annual Christmas musical Sunday evening at 7.

The Rev. Paschall L. Banks will preach at the 11 a.m. Sunday service on the topic "Why."

MONTCLAIR — A Christmas musicale will feature the Sanctuary Choir, soloists and other music groups Sunday at 11 a.m. at the BETHANY BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Joyful Sounds will sing "Little Drummer Boy" and the Ladies Trio will sing "No Room."

Mrs. Elaine Grisso will sing "Star of the East" and Mrs. Cindy Warrziniack will sing "What Child Is This?" Tony Niccola will sing "Gesu Bambino" and Walter Davenport will sing "I Wonder as I Wonder."

Mrs. Grisso will be organist and Mrs. Bonni Shorts will be pianist and will play the harpsachord.

The Rev. D.L. Bray will narrate the program that has the theme "The Glory of God."

A family worship service will be conducted at 10 a.m. Christmas Day at the church.

POMONA — The Sanctuary Choir of the FAITH MISSIONARY CHURCH will present John Peterson's cantata "King of Kings" Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship service.

Claremont United announces program

CLAREMONT — Dr. Albert Penner will preach on the subject, "The Ageless Appeal of Christmas," Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational.

The Chancel Choir, directed by Louis Ronfeldt, will sing "Sleepers, Wake!" and "Bells Are Ringing." Georgia Warden will be featured on the recorder and Ann Copple on handbells.

The Glen Swick family will light the advent candle.

A family Christmas Eve service is planned for Monday at 5 p.m. with an informal candlelighting, Christmas carols and a play.

The play, "The Star of Bethlehem," was written by Christian Hilbig and will be performed by the Junior High Pilgrim Fellowship group.

The 11 p.m. candlelight service Monday will feature a short meditation by Dr. Penner.

The Chancel Choir will perform Charpentier's "Midnight Mass for Christmas" based on French carols for solo voices.

Participants will include Georgia Warden and Lu Ann Parsons, sopranos; Dean Fowler, tenor; Paul Vander Heyden, baritone; Donald Bowers, bass; Ann Owensby, solo flute; Tim Ogden, cello; and William G. Blanchard, organ.

Blanchard's anthem "Sleep Little Jesus" will be sung prior to the ringing of the bells at midnight.

The High School Chamber Singers will sing "The Little Shepherd Carol" and Carol of a little Star." Guitars will be featured with Andy Wingert, Erica Rose. Laurie MacKenzie will play the flute and Marty Burgeson, violin.

ULTRA-MODERN YULE TREE?— Chicago's Christmas tree in Civic Center Plaza appears to be wavering in the stiff breezes that brought cold and snow to the area recently. The photographer achieved the wavy effect in the upper portions of the tree by moving his camera from side to side while panning the subject with the traveling lens of a Widelux camera. The shutter was set at 1-10th second.

Nader unit hurls candle accusation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Ralph Nader research group today accused the government's Consumer Product Safety Commission of irresponsible delay in failing to act on its request to ban millions of Christmas candles as a lead poisoning threat.

Nader's Health Research Group said a study by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) had confirmed the candle hazard in the two weeks since its petition was filed on Dec. 7, but that the commission, the agency responsible for acting, is dragging its feet.

"We think they have been irresponsible in the face of one of the oldest known poisons— lead—and in the face of the Christmas season when people are buying up candles like they're going out of style," said Dr. Sidney Wolfe, director of the research group.

The commission said Wolfe's petition is still under study, although a decision on it may be made shortly. It said the subject is a complex one on which a hasty decision would not be in the public interest.

Wolfe's petition contends that a lead wire around which the wick is wrapped in some candles sends poisonous lead fumes into the air when the candle is burned and spreads minute lead particles on food, tables and other places where they could be ingested. He also claimed candles fashioned in the shape of fruit or other food items posed a hazard to children who might try to eat them.

A wide variety of candles is involved, many of them decorative Christmas types.

Wolfe said the EPA study, now being looked at by top EPA officials and by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, showed that about 30 per cent of the lead wire vaporized when a candle was burned in a test chamber.

The report said the test results, when applied to the home, could mean "additional and preventable cases of childhood lead poisoning would result" from such cancles and that they should be banned.

Pot plant serving as Christmas tree

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — The police department has turned a four-foot marijuana plant seized in a drug raid into a Christmas tree complete with a set of festive decorations.

A detective recently said the plant, which is watered once a day, was still growing, with 10 red ornaments hanging from its leaves. "It's a very virile plant," he said.

After the holidays, the plant will be used as evidence.

Rockefeller undaunted by voter gloom

WASHINKTON (UPI) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, resigning this week to head a commission on national priorities, says despite a recent poll showing most Americans have lost confidence in government, he remains optimistic.

Americans, he said, "can deal with any problem providing they know the facts and...will sit down with the kind of integrity and honesty that I believe is a characteristic of this country even though it has gotten slightly blurred in some areas."

He appeared Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Rockefeller will resign this week to devote full time to his blue-ribbon Commission on Critical Choices for Americans. He reiterated that he is "keeping options open" about future political plans.

He said he will decide whether to seek the Republican Presidential nomination "in the latter part of '75."

Until then, Rockefeller said, he will be busy running his commission, which will seek to propose solutions to the problems America will face in its third 100 years.

Rockefeller has donated $1 million to the commission, the total cost of which will "probably be in the neighborhood of $4 million to $10 million."

Questioned in detail about President Nixon's role in the Watergate scandal, said he does not blame Nixon personally.

"I'm hesitant to make judgments until I know more," he said. Rockefeller called Watergate "an unfortunate, tragic situation" but said he did not think it has paralyzed the government or Nixon's capacity to govern.

Gets Yule card from friendly bank bandit

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI) — William Bryant received a Christmas card this week signed "from your friendly bank robber—Richard Alsop."

Bryant is assistant manager of the Midwest Federal Savings and Loan Association here.

Alsop is currently serving a sentence in federal prison at Marion, Ill., after being convicted of two Evansville savings and loan robberies two years ago, including one at Bryant's office in which $12,000 was taken.

His freedom short-lived

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) — Milton Collins, 41, should have been freed on parole Tuesday after spending nine years in prison in New Jersey. Instead, he is in Middlesex County Jail facing another prison term.

State prison authorities let him out Saturday to prepare for parole. On Monday, police arrested Collins after an auto chase.

Police said Collins was driving a stolen car filled with $7,000 worth of electric typewriters and musical instruments stolen from the Marlboro Township school system.

Gas rationing ghost waits in the wings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One day the news from Washington seems to blow hot on gasoline rationing, another day it blows cold.

Gasoline rationing is under consideration, but it is something President Nixon is trying to avoid.

No one really knows whether it can be avoided, so until the decision is made, steps will be taken to prepare for gasoline rationing even though officials say it would not be started until March 1 at the earliest.

The administration clearly has reservations about gasoline rationing, and insists it will be undertaken only as a last resort—but it is proceeding with some contengency planning nevertheless.

This much is certain: some new steps are needed to cut down on gasoline use.

There is a substantial gap between the amount of gas which is expected to be available and the amount which could be saved through the present conservation program.

The expected gasoline shortage during the first three months of 1974 will be 1.4 million barrels a day, more than 21 per cent of expected demand.

The gasoline saving programs undertaken so far involve a halt to Sunday sales estimated to save up to 50,000 barrels a day, and reduction in highway speed limits which could save 200,000 barrels a day.

Other conservation programs already are in being. But a big gap remains between expected supply and demand.

The supply of gasoline seems sure to decrease further between now and the first quarter of 1974 as refineries presumably take advantage of new price incentives to produce more heating oil at the expense of gasoline production.

Even if they switch back to greatly increased gasoline production toward the end of the cold season, a shortage of 1.4 million barrels a day still is forecast.

That means more steps are in prospect to cut down on demand.

It means the motorist must brace himself for more bad news.

Gas rationing? No one really likes gas rationing. It is perhaps the most cumbersome device available. But some believe it is the fairest. Higher prices? Some people who would profit from higher prices obviously favor that alternative. But there are some who believe it might be the most effective way to ease the crisis by providing incentives to develope new sources of supply while discouraging consumption.

Other possibilities are higher gasoline taxes with possibly a tax refund provision for the working poor, or higher taxes combined with rationing so that only those who use more than the basic allotment of gas would pay the new tax.

All those alternatives are reported under consideration, with the President expected to make a decision by the first of the year.

Couple flee giant sinkhole

PIERSON, Fla. (UPI) — A $15,000 moving job may be in store for a two-bedroom stucco home threatened by a giant sinkhole that won't stop growing.

An insurance firm was reported Monday to be studying the possibility of moving the $50,000 home of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Rowell from its site between two small lakes.

Scientists haven't been able to figure out what caused a tiny six-by-four foot crevice to grow in three days to a hole nearly 60 feet wide and 75 feet deep.

The Rowells didn't ask too many questions. They moved out in a hurry last Friday with all their furniture and rented a home on more stable ground.

The only theory advanced so far traced the hole to the possible existence of an underground stream.

Supporters of that theory point out that the hole has been steadily filling up with muck.

OLDER SPANISH

Dining Room
Screened Play Room
4 Room Guest House

Here's a "hard to find," authentic Spanish stucco home with red tile roof. Unbelievable massive floor plan features 3 king sized bedrooms, serviced by 2 deluxe bathrooms, with tile walls and floors. Huge front living room with high arched ceilings, Spanish texture walls, large picture window and center heatalator fireplace.
The park-like rear grounds abound in an old world flavor — High block walls, 3 patios, fish pond, and many specimen trees and shrubs.
Now don't be misled for this home is in need of some repairs. However with a little imagination and elbow greese it could be a real show place, and look at the price and terms.

Padua Hills offers annual Yule story

. . . Story on page 4

HIGH RISE — Busloads of excited school children have become a common sight for these giraffes at Lion Country Safari, the African wildlife preserve and amusement park in Orange County. Roaming at large through the park are also lions, elephants, cheetahs, Bengal tigers and other animals. The park opens at 9 a.m. every day of the year, with the last auto tours leaving at 3:30 p.m. Tickets are $3.95 for adults, and $2.75 for children from 5 through 11.

Short shots from showbiz

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "The Pyx," starring Karen Black and Christopher Plummer, is the most expensive film — at $1 million — ever made in Canada solely financed by Canadian funds.

★ ★ ★

Gower Campion will direct his first major motion picture when he sets the cameras rolling for "The Bank Shot," starring George C. Scott, for United Artists.

★ ★ ★

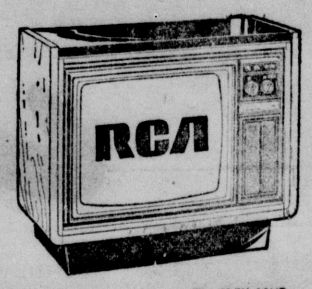

"Mrs. Sundance," a sequel to the box-office hit, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," will be filmed as an ABC-TV Movie of the Week with Elizabeth Montgomery in the title role.

★ ★ ★

Robert Mitchum will play a detective in pursuit of a Japanese gangster clan in "The Yakuza," to be filmed in Los Angeles and Tokyo by Warner Brothers.

Cliff King TV
2148 N. GAREY
PH: 593-1048

CLIFF KING Says:

The experts who televise the big sporting events you see on TV feel that football is the sport best suited to TV coverage. Although football is played on a big field, the action starts in a concentrated area that can be encompassed easily by the camera. Then, as the play unfolds, the special isolated cameras can pick up and record the details of every play.

Basketball, with its big, easy to follow ball and small number of players in a small area is also easy. Boxing is, of course, a cinch. Hardest of all to cover well for TV is baseball, with players scattered all over a large field.

Whatever sports your family watches, add to your pleasure with one of our modern color TV sets with all the desired modern features. There's still time to have one delivered in time for Christmas. We wish you all a very MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Duo-pianists to perform at UCLA

LOS ANGELES Duo-pianists Paul Hersh and David Montgomery will give a concert ranging from classical music to ragtime in Royce Hall, UCLA, at 8 p.m. Jan. 13.

The performance will include the music of Scott Joplin, Joseph Lamb, Jelly-Roll Morton and Eubie Blake. UCLA Prof. Alden Ashforth will provide a new rag written especially for the occasion. The program also will include "The Union" by Louis Moreau Gottschalk.

Hersh and Montgomery will also play the Schubert Rondo: "Notre Amitie est invariable" and the Ballade No. 1 in G Minor by Chopin, and Montgomery will play the latter's Polonaise-Fantasie. They will perform two Bottschalk arrangements of overtures, from Weber's "Oberon" and Rossini's "William Tell."

Both faculty members of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, Hersh and Montgomery have been a hit in the San Francisco Bay area with their joint recitals, always filled with much laughter as well as music.

Hersh for many years played viola with the Lenox Quartet before departing that ensemble to concentrate on the piano. Montgomery, in addition to being a pianist, is a conductor and composer.

Although it languished in obscurity for many years after the second decade of this century, ragtime once more has become very popular.

A Christmas story in song and dance

CLAREMONT — Perched amid olive trees in the picturesque Padua Hills a few miles north of Claremont sits the handsome, Spanish-style Padua Theater, where every winter the resident Mexican Players stage "Las Posadas," the Christmas story as told in song, dance and pageantry in Mexico.

The colorful production can hold its own in popularity with annual presentations of Handel's "Messiah," "Amahal and the Night Visitors," "The Nutcracker" and other plays and oratorios customarily associated with the Yuletide season. "Las Posadas" is presented seven times a week, four evening and three matinee performances, for seven weeks, and almost all of the performances in the 300-seat theater are sold out. Occasionally, because of the demand for tickets, extra matinees are added.

The Mexican Players are now staging, through Jan. 5, the 42nd annual production of the play. More than half a million people have seen the "Las Posadas" since it was first performed at Padua in 1932. Many viewers return year after year. The audiences range from Girl Scouts to senior citizens. Schools throughout Southern California send busloads of students; chartered buses bring visitors from as far away as San Diego and Santa Barbara.

"Los Posadas" was chosen as the title for the play because the songs, processions and ceremonies are known by that name throughout Mexico and make up the content of the performance.

The Spanish word, "posada," means shelter, an inn, a place to stay. The songs, telling of Mary and Joseph wandering from door to door in Bethlehem seeking posada before the birth of the Christ child, are sung by processions from house to house in Mexican villages today. They are also sung in churches on nine evenings before Christmas. The music, with many variations, has been sung since the Middle Ages and was brought to Mexico by the early Spanish settlers.

Padua's "Las Posadas" tells a simple dramatic folk story set in a contemporary Mexican home on Christmas Eve. The English dialogue was written especially for the Mexican Players by the late Agnes Emelie Peterson of Pasadena. The music was taught to the Padua singers and musicians in 1932 by Manuel Vera, one of the original Mexican Players. They are songs he learned as a boy in the little church of La Canada de Caracheo in Guanajuato.

"Las Posadas" features the Nacimiento or small Nativity scene to be found in a variety of forms in almost every Mexican home during the Christmas season. The young hero of the play, Panchito, falls asleep by the Nacimiento and dreams "The Nativity Play," a play still performed in Mexico in the medieval costumes of Europe, including a white-robed angel with huge wings, a Lucifer in horns and cape, and a bevy of handsome Fragonard-style shepherds and shepherdesses.

Panchito sees the angel tell Mary of the coming of her Son, the Devil raging at the news in a fury of thunder and lightning, the Three Wise Men, the angel protecting the sheepherders from Satan's temptations and finally the arrival of the Holy Family at the inn.

When Panchito wakes up, the family holds the breaking of the pinata, the colorful clay jar stuffed with candy, nuts, and tiny gifts.

The pinata is suspended by a rope from the ceiling, and Panchito, blindfolded, swings at it with a stick until he finally hits and shatters it, bringing down a torrent of goodies.

The pinata-breaking in the Padua performance brings to a climax the small drama that provides the framework for the Christmas story, and it is followed by a fiesta of song and dance, including hilarious caperings by masked figures.

The Mexican Players pass on the music and dance from father to son, from mother to daughter, keeping the tradition alive. At one time the cast included a grandfather, father and son. In the current production are Guadalupe Rubio, who plays Ramon, and his wife, Nelia, who plays a guest. The couple first met while performing with the Mexican Players, and now their three children — Angela, Saul and Pedro — are also playing in "Las Posadas."

Other performers in the present version of the Christmas play are Conchita Aguilar, Rogelio Alfaro, Jose Luna, Gustavo Duarte, Raymundo Ramirez, Maria Abundiz, Julian Amador, Felix Avila, Maria Elena Alfaro, Dolores Elisalde, Alonzo Rivera, Rafael Oriz, Gregorio Valadez, Hermelinda Pastrana, and Alfonso Ortega.

The director is Eligio Herrera. The authentic costumes were designed by Kathryn W. Dickinson.

Padua Hills Theater and the adjacent dining room are operated by the Padua Institute, a non-profit organization aimed at keeping alive the romantic Spanish and Mexican traditions and bringing the songs, customs and arts of Spain and Mexico to California.

Among the honorary members of the board of trustees are Sra. M. Esther Zuon de Echeverria, wife of the president of Mexico, and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.

Pedro Rubio, blindfolded, tries to break the pinata maneuvered by his father, Guadalupe, while Conchita Aguilar watches and Saul Rubio prepares to catch the candy that will tumble out.

ON THE COVER

Panchito (Saul Rubio) dreams of The Nativity in the play-within-a-play of "Las Posadas," Mexican story of Christmas being performed at Padua Hills Theater through Jan. 5. Maria Elena Alfara portrays Mary, and Alonzo Rivera is Joseph. Shepherds and shepherdesses, from left, are Dolores Elisalde, Nelio Rubio, Gustavo Duarte, Maria Abundiz and Pedro Rubio.

Alfonso Ortega plays the guitar, while Dolores Elisalde and Pedro Rubio do a folk dance.

Bonita coed named queen

By KITTY WOODALL
Bonita Reporter

Sandi Detrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Broadfoot of 4316 Emerald Ave., La Verne, recently was installed Honor Queen of Bethel No. 353 of the International Order of Job's Daughters.

"There's alot of responsibility and work involved," said Sandi. "The girls and I will have to work hard to make this term a success. It's a great honor."

Sandi officially began her elected term of office on Friday, Dec. 14, following a public installation at the Masonic Temple in San Dimas. The theme of the evening was "Serenity Makes a More Beautiful World".

Sandi is a senior at Bonita High School and has maintained a "B" average. After graduation in June, she plans to attend Mt. San Antonio College and major in occupational therapy.

5-year member

Sandi has been a member of Job's Daughters for more than five years and has held the offices of librarian, assistant recorder, junior custodian, senior custodian, substitute second messenger, and choir member.

Also installed as officers were: Debbie Moore, (San) Dimas High School junior), Senior Princess; Charlene Brunette, (Bonita junior), Junior Princess; Pam Hamic, (San Dimas freshman), Guide; and Melinda Brocklemeyer, (Bonita freshman), Marshall.

2 receive law awards

By LUANNE HARDCASTLE
Garey Reporter

This year, law scholarship awards are going to Garey High School students who are interested in studying law.

The first winners of the scholarship awards are Tim Tucker, a junior, who received $25. for Laws 1, and Lynette Cravens, a senior, who received $25. for Laws 2.

Law classes, headed by Neil Romero, are designed to get interested students involved in learning how to handle cases, prepare briefs, and learn legal terms.

Scholarships are donated by the Pomona Bar Association, and are awarded each trimester to the top law students in either Laws 1, Laws 2, or both. The winning students excelled in all phases of the class.

True meaning

Birth of God's Son

By MARY SANCHEZ
Pomona Catholic

As Christmas day approaches the hustle and bustle of people doing last minute shopping and the final preparations for Christmas dinners and parties can make each of us forget the true meaning and origin of Christmas.

The arrival of a new babe and what He was destined to do for mankind is what we celebrate every year on Dec. 25. The infant who was named Jesus and had been long awaited by the people of the Old Testament had finally come. The promise of a saviour by God had been fulfilled and now it was only a matter of years until man would again have a chance to get through the gates of heaven to eternal happiness. Can you imagine God sending His only Son to save His people?

This Christmas stop and think just for a few moments how Christmas really came about and what it is that we celebrate. Not only the trees and food and carols that we sing but the birth of the King of the world.

St. Lucy's has dance

By JANET GATTAS
St. Lucy Reporter

Friday was a night to remember for St. Lucy girls who went to the Christmas dance.

This year the junior-sponsored event was held at St. Lucy's High. From 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. the couples danced to the music of "Kingdom," a seven member band.

Among the songs played was "Just You and Me," by Chicago, which also served as the dance theme. Junior Gina Genton was chairman of the affair. Ellen Rudiger handled publicity. Nancy Baker was in charge of refreshments.

Christmas dance set

By MARY LOU AGUIRRE
Chaffey Reporter

Chaffey High School's annual Christmas formal, presented by members of the junior class, will be held tonight in the student center at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut.

It will start at 8:30 and end at 11:30. The band "Jamina" will provide music. Tickets are $4 with two ASB cards, $4.50 with one and $5 with none.

Book deals with Heisman awards

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

"HEROES OF THE HEISMAN TROPHY" by Bill Libby, Hawthorn Books Inc., $5.95.

The Heisman Trophy, the annual award presented to the outstanding college football player of the season, probably carries more charisma then any other sports honor.

It started out as a simple honor created by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. Today, it causes great promotions by the colleges and much controversy.

Libby did a lot of research in writing this book. He interviewed the surviving Heisman Trophy winner and wrote about their experiences.

The trophy is presented in honor of John W. Heisman, who coached for 36 years at Oberlin, Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice from 1892 through 1927. He completed his career as athletic director of the sponsoring Downtown Athletic Club of New York.

Some of Libby's statistics about winners are interesting.

No freshman or sophomore has ever been selected and only four juniors have won the Heisman. There has never been a repeat winner. Only two linemen— and they were both pass catching ends — have been honored.

Libby brings into the open the prejudices involved in having more than 1,000 sportscasters and writers voting on an annual basis.

For instance, no black ever won the award until the late Ernie Davis of Syracuse was honored in 1961. Not even the great Jim Brown could make it.

The 38 winners — not including this year's selection of Penn State's John Cappelletti — have come from only 22 schools. Notre Dame has produced the most with six.

It is interesting the Big Ten hasn't been represented since 1955 when Ohio State's Hopalong Cassady was honored. Famous Football schools like Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Tennessee, Michigan State, Georgia Tech, California or Washington have never produced a Heisman winner.

Libby talks with the winners from Chicago's Jay Berwanger in 1935 to Nebraska's Johnny Rodgers last year. Only three Heisman winners are dead. Iowa's Nile Kinnick 1939 was killed in World War II while both Bruce Smith of Minnesota (1941) and Ernie Davis died of natural causes.

Berwanger talked about the experiences of being first.

"You must remember it was a new award when I got it and just another award for many years," he told Libby. "Gradually, it developed a tradition which made it sort of special. Only in recent years has controversy and publicity made it maybe the most prominent of sports trophies. Now I'm remembered mostly for having won it, especially for being the first winner."

The Pomona Valley has produced one Heisman winner in Bonita High graduate Glenn Davis.

Davis, known as Mr. Outside" on the great Army teams of the 1940s, has special pride about his trophy.

"I doubt that it's meant much to me financally, but it has meant a lot to me personally," Davis said. "It's a pretty select group and it's personally satisfying to be a part of it. My wife and I keep the trophy up on a fireplace in our living room and we see a lot of it."

Some winners aren't excited about it.

Terry Baker of Oregon State, the 1962 winner, explains why. "They make too much of the Heisman. Once you win it, you're never the same again. I have it stored away. People ask to see it, but I want to be known for what I am today, not what I was yesterday."

The Southern California area produced three winners in the mid 1960s, when USC contributed Mike Garret and O. J. Simpson and UCLA had Gary Beban.

Libby's book is a must for college football fans.

New romance gets approval from reviewer

By CHARLOTTE LYON

SHADOW OF A LAD Y by Jane Aiken Hodge, Coward, McCann O Geoghegan 7.95.

(Charlotte Lyon is a staff member of the Pomona Public Library).

Helen Telfair, a young British gentlewoman of little means, lives her young womanhood in the shadow of dazzling Lady Emma Hamilton, of whom even the painter, Romney, was enamored.

These two women's lives even intertwine at the climax of the story where, at the Court of Naples during the Napoleonic Wars, Helen's illusion for her idol is broken when she learns of Emma's undisguised passion for the naval hero, Lord Horatio Nelson. Helen concludes, "I thought her an angel, but she's only the shadow of one."

The fictional characters in this historical novel are quite believable people, who often find themselves in curious circumstances. Wives and children sailing on battleships in a war zone would certainly be a rare occurrence, yet Helen Telfair, whose father was a naval officer, traveled on his ship to the Mediterranean accompanied by her invalid mother.

Many of the elements of this story parallel personal problems of girls living today, such as Helen's marrying an unlovable and stupid man so as to have a father for the child she is to bear as the result of being raped; and feeling guilty every time the little boy is ill or in danger for fear she has failed to love and care for him enough.

Historical romances have an almost insatiable readership among girls and women, necessitating their frequent addition to public library collections.

Turning tables on writers shows difficulty in profiles

By ROBERT MORSBERGER

MURDERERS AND OTHER FRIENDLY PEOPLE: The Public and Private Worlds of Interviewers by Denis Brian. McGraw-Hill, $7.95.

In recent decades the interview has become an increasingly prominent and respected form of journalism and criticism. Yet the focus, art, and reliability of the interviewer are rarely questioned. As long as the reporting is accurate, the interview is likely to go unchallenged.

(Robert Morsberger is Professor of English at Cal Poly University, Pomona).

Suppose, however, several people interviewing the same subject come up with conflicting accounts as in "Murderers and Other Friendly People."

Denis Brian puts America's most noted interviewers on the witness stand, cross-examines them, and occasionally brings in other witnesses to corroborate or contradict them. The result is a fascinating study of the complexity in getting an accurate portrait of anyone.

Brian deliberately sets up a series of checks and balances. In "The Hemingway Hunters," he interviews the author's family, friends, and interviewers, asking them not only about Hemingway but about each other. The lively disagremeements among them make the reader aware of the need to constantly reevaluate evidence and testimony.

Cowley reveals him (Hemingway) as a fascinating, heroic man, Lillian Ross made him seem almost adolescent and trivial, and Plimpton shows a dedicated, almost ascetic writer. The results often reflect what the interviewer brings to the interview.

The next section deals with the controversy over "In Cold Blood"; Brian interviews Truman Capote and several of his supporters and critics.

We then meet Rex Reed, followed by an attack on Reed by Lester Maddox' press secretary, who accuses Reed of doing a hatchet job on the Georgia governor.

Harrison Salisbury and Gay Talese disagree over the nature of the New York Times. William Buckley, Jr. and Benjamin DeMott collide over politics right and left.

Brian interviews five figures to set the record straight about the Kennedy myths, during which Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Walt Rostow attest to slanted and unreliable reporting by Victor Lasky. Alex Haley tells how he produced "The Autobiography of Malcolm X."

The interviewers disagree as to each other's effectiveness and reliability, but most rate Studs Terkel the best, and he is the last subject interviewed. Terkel himself does not generally interview celebrities but ordinary people for his books on Chicago and on the great Depression.

Brian raises provocative questions about the art of interviewing. What is invasion of privacy? Who has access to what material? Should an interview be edited?

If an interviewer removes his questions, does he make the subject sound too garrulous? On the other hand, can he intrude too much?

Brian himself sometimes asks trivial questions, changes topics too quickly, and does not pursue issues in enough depth; but his subjects are eloquent and the controversies stimulating and enlightening.

Artistic science is their style at All About Hair

POMONA — Science is combined with art in a scientific approach to hairdressing at the All About Hair salon, 550 N. San Antonio Ave.

"Hair dressing is an art form," says Susie Alvarez, who with her husband, Ramon, manages the salon, "and in this art we use organic products. We treat and condition the hair with what it's made of — which is protein."

The managers of All About Hair, which opened Oct. 8, feel that their salon is unique in its approach to hairdressing and hairdressing education. The shop, which is housed in the building formerly occupied by Le Cherie Salon, is owned by Jacques Brodeur.

"Beautiful hair begins internally and depends on what you eat and how you feel," Mrs. Alvarez said. She also offers an organic hair treatment formula for tired and sick hair. The formula calls for two ounces of condensed milk to be poured on the hair. Sprayed onto the milk is one ounce PPT, a protein conditioner, one tablespoon glycerin and one tablespoon wheat germ oil. After staying on the hair for one hour, the formula may then be rinsed off.

Ramon Alvarez, manager of All About Hair, demonstrates a cutting technique on Linda YiDonoy's hair for beauty operators Chris Evans and Lynda Landers, right.

Natural styling and the latest styles for long and short hair are also featured at All About Hair. "We style hair whatever way the customer wants as long as the hair can be clean and healthy," Mrs. Alvarez said.

To keep up with the latest techniques and advances in hairdressing Alvarez travels throughout the country in search of all the newest styles and cutting techniques.

He has studied under such famous hairdressers as John Peters and James Victor and recently returned from San Francisco where he studied at the Vidal Sassoon Training Center. The Sassoon center is newly opened in the United States with the only other such center in London.

Alvarez takes back his information and education to All About Hair, where he conducts seminars and cutting classes to pass on new techniques to beauty operators. All About Hair also sponsors seminars for local beauty operators with guest stylists.

"By sponsoring the seminars we offer beauty operators a chance to learn about the latest hair styles so that they can keep up with fashion," Mrs. Alvarez said.

All About Hair operators had a chance to demonstrate their skills for a worthy cause recently when the salon held a benefit for Pacific State Hospital at Garfield Park. Throughout the day 22 hairdressers, the All About Hair staff, cut hair for donations for the hospital. 'We did hundreds of hair cuts," Mrs. Alvarez said. "We were busy from morning until night." In the process the salon staff raised $285 for adolescent girls at Pacific State. A similar benefit will again be sponsored by All About Hair in the spring or summer.

Services at All About Hair include unique features such as collage haircoloring, organic permanent waving and reconditioning and men's styling, tinting and permanent waves. As part of its "head to toe" services All About Hair also features manicures, pedicures, make up application by appointment, quick cut and blow styles, application of s e m i-permanent individual eyelashes and Francene's Body Contouring.

The salon is also a retail center for Redken hair care products and Anita of Denmark Day Dew cosmetics.

Francene Edwards does a face lift without surgery on a customer at Francene's Body Contouring, part of the services at All About Hair.

Twenty-two hairdressers from All about Hair raised $285 for Pacific State Hospital during a benefit hair cutting at Garfield Park.

At "ALL ABOUT HAIR" we really care,
That is why we know All About Hair.
We cut hair, we color hair,
We bend hair beyond compare.

We blow hair, we weave hair,
Is your hair in need of repair?
We analyze hair, proteinize hair,
Style hair with a definite flair

The woman with the new style to wear

Farewell to Cosell

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Well, it's just another rotten week. Monday night pro football on television is gone until next year. What in the world will we talk about on Tuesdays in the meantime?

Who ever would have thought that Howard Cosell would be the champagne in our lives? Who ever would have thought that Mondays would bubble until those ABC-TV games came along?

Ah, Howard, we will miss you, rasping and all, wordiness and all. We know you will be around on video in the interim, here and there. But it just isn't the same, old man. You know it and we know it.

For Cosell blooms in the fall, like a plant in season. With a glorious burst that lasts about three months, he is a gleaming star of television, a household name as well known as Lassie or Ann Margret.

And then, the rest of the year, he rides out the wave of his annual Monday night stardom, doing other sports shows, or perhaps commercials, or making video guest appearances, or taking on whatever else may be in the offing.

This coming year, for instance, ABC-TV has given him eight shows in its late-night "Wide World of Entertainment" series. He has already been a ratings hit in this series as a banquet "roast session" target.

You never know about Howard—he just might turn those late-night outings into something to talk about, because if ever a man seemed capable of exploiting himself expertly, it is Cosell.

But in the meantime, our basic image of Howard is identified with pro football on Monday nights, on ABC-TV. He has a style all his own: He buzzes around noisily like a bee, and hits like a butterfly— but somehow it works because he is, indeed, one of a kind.

Do you realize what Humble Howard and his drawling sidekick, Don Meredith, have done? They have taken blue Mondays and turned them into red-hot Mondays for a quarter of a year, each year. I think that's the main reason people really like them.

You remember Mondays before Cosell, don't you? You went back to work after a swell weekend, and there was the prospect of five more days of labor before your next day off. Well, along came Howard and ABC-TV and made Monday nights a sort of participating national happy time.

It was like an extension of the weekend atmosphere; a big, goodnatured sports happening to look forward to right after you got back to your job; a mental shortening of the work week.

Mondays seemed zippier somehow. The anticipation was like waiting to go on a nighttime hayride or sleigh ride. Egad, there was excitement in the air—and over the air—on Monday nights! And now it's all gone, gone, gone. And we must twiddle our thumbs and wait.

Three quarters of a year to go.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two midseason replacements at CBS will be half-hour series, "Dirty Sally," with Jeanette Nolan in the title role, and something tentatively titled "Great Day!" a comedy starring Esther Rolle in expansion of her current character in the "Maude" series. The character Miss Nolan plays is a spinoff from a two-part "Gunsmoke" story two years ago. The new shows replace "Calucci's Dept." and "Roll Out!," both new last fall.

★ ★ ★

Cliff Robertson will star in a two-hour movie-for-television for ABC airing later this season. It is "My Father's House," based on the novel by Phillip Kunhardt Jr. about how a high-pressure publishing executive is led to rediscover his past after a heart attack.

★ ★ ★

A new CBS one-hour weekly drama series that will have its premiere Feb. 10 is "Apple's Way," which is about a successful big-city architect of today who moves his family of wife and four children back to the small Iowa town where he grew up. The series was created by Earl Hamner, who is responsible for "The Waltons" on CBS. "Apple's Way" replaces "The New Perry Mason," cancelled.

NBC has signed Burt Reynolds for a series of prime-time specials for the 1974-75 season. The shows are described as "event type" specials with major guest stars.

'Sleuth' producer scores second hit

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Producer Morton Gottlieb held a three-year tenancy on the Music Box with a superthriller titled "Sleuth," which had scarcely departed, before he came back with another tingler, "Veronica's Room."

This new one, by Ira Levine, is not another "Sleuth" — what is? — but it is a thriller of some merit and should be appreciated by most theatergoers who love this sort of melodramatic antic.

Levin is no amateur at providing entertainment shock, as witness his novel, "Rosemary's Baby." The chief drawback in this play is a slow first act. But the final stanza is packed with sufficient suspenseful thrills to make the whole recommendable.

The author gets immense help from marvelous performances by its four players — Eileen Heckart, Arthur Kennedy, Regina Baff and Kipp Osborne. Ellis Rabb's expert direction is helpful.

Can't reveal much about the story; there's an unwritten law that silences reviewers where this type of play is concerned.

However, the time is now, the place a room in a fine house near Boston. Miss Heckart and Kennedy appear as the caretaking couple for the place with a girl and her escort, whom they encountered in a restaurant. They say that the girl is a ringer for one Veronica, who lived in the house.

That triggers a traumatic experience for the girl that involves a change in the character of the caretakers and the girl's escort, a trip backward in time to 1935 and a surprise ending.

Certainly not the greatest in the suspense-thriller field but worth seeing.

Henry Fonda, always busy with films and television, is going to devote some time to the theater early next year. He will be a one-man cast in "Clarence Darrow" by David Rintels, which is described as being a full-fledged drama and not simple one of those "readings." Fonda's impersonation of the late noted attorney is scheduled for engagements in Chicago, Washington, D.C., and New York beginning late in January.

Real police busy in show business

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Be nice to your neighborhood cop. He may turn out to be a famous author or show business personality.

Look at author Joe ("The Onion Field") Wambaugh or Eddie ("French Connection") Egan and Greenberg and Hantz, New York's "Super Cops.' Then there's Dave Toma, who inspired the new "Toma" television series.

In one way or another, they could all pass for the fuzz—short hair, clean shaven, tough but temperized by chunky home goodness.

Now there is Sonny Grosso. He was Egan's partner on the biggest dope bust of all time, the notorious "French Connection."

If any of the other famous cops knocked on the door in the dead of night, citizens would be inclined to invite them in for a cup of coffee.

On the other hand, if Grosso came tapping, tapping at the door the householder would call the cops. In appearance Sonny would look familiar on the wrong side of a felon line-up or staring down from a Post Office poster.

Grosso's nose rambles around his face, the result of various blows administered by fists, bludgeons and brass knuckles. His teeth clearly are not capped. His black hair is receding irregularly. And Grosso's beard puts one in mind of Basil Rathone's in his most evil role.

But Detective First Grade Grusso blows his image when he talks. A highly engaging man with a soft voice and bright grin, he is two months away from retiring from the New York Police Department.

His next move, he hopes, will be to show business.

He has taken a large step in that direction by writing an account of another of his police adventures.

It has been made into a movie by 20th Century-Fox, and Grosso has been traveling to more than a dozen cities to promote it.

"This time I've got a small part in the picture,' Sonny said. "It's just a couple of lines. But I never did anything on the force that scared me half as much.

"I've faced guns that didn't shake me up as much as having the director point the camera at me and say, 'Action.'

"Remember, I've always worked in Harlem where I was born and raised. That's a pretty tough neighborhood. But once you get used to it, Harlem is like any place else. You just have to know the rules."

In addition to working in the picture, Sonny has been technical advison on the new Telly Savalas television series, "Kojak."

"When I leave the department I'd like to stay in television and movies. I could start out as a writer," Grosso said. "Eventually I think it would be nice to become a producer."

From executive to 'saver'

By DOUGLAS STANGLIN

DALLAS (UPI) — For ht years, Ken Gjemre re the blue serge of a sen- vice president of a jewelry rporation.

Now he wears wrinkled irts that he can't keep tuck- in, and he shuffles with his g through the aisles of his op jammed with 250,000 ed books and magazines.

"I guess I've been an envi- nmentalist all my life— ven before we knew the ord —hating to throw things way and hating the waste," e said. "Then finally I couldn't take it anymore."

So he chunked his executive mage. Gjemre, 52, now has a beard and a potbelly.

"I really got to the point philosophically and politically where I couldn't live a life."

He said his "recycling" book store is not a mere whim, but the outgrowth of a greedy society.

"I think I'm the prototype of the future," he said, sitting on a car seat converted into a couch. "We are going to have to see much more of this with the inevitability of shortages and having to cut back on the world's resources."

Gjemre's store winds through doors chopped through brick walls, the ragged edges still bare, into the reference room packed with encyclopedias and then into a section for religious works.

"For years I had been quite upset with the waste that's in the retail kind of operation," he said. "I started out with small appliances and soon realized that about nine-tenths of everything we sold wasn't being used. They were given as gifts, like waffle irons, and ended up in someone's closet and never really used."

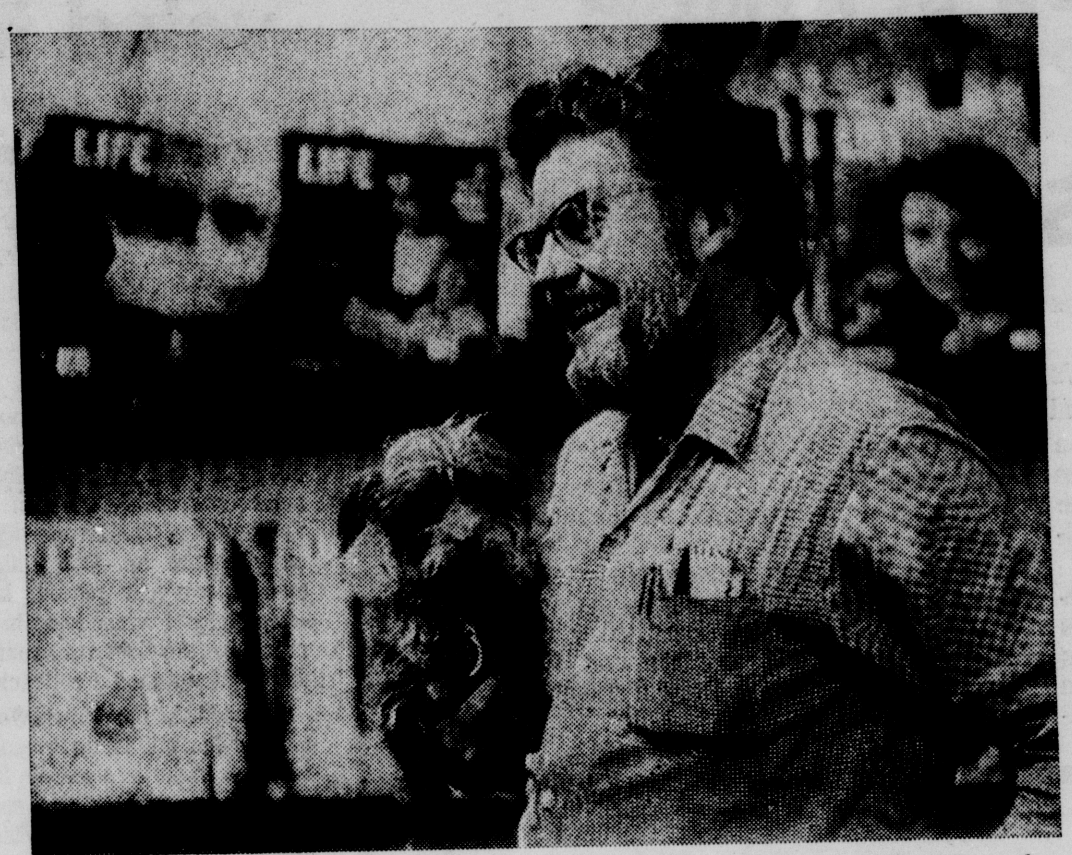

Now Gjemre sells only used books, magazines and records. He pays 10 per cent of the face value for current magazines and then sells them for half their original price.

"I don't buy anything from publishers. I buy only from people," he said.

Along one wall of his shop, a complete set of Life Magazines is stacked. And a row of apple crates line the aisles filled with aging National Geographics. He has an autographed copy of Richard Nixon's "Six Crises" for sale at $15, and recently sold a first issue of Playboy for $200. A four-volume set of Eros magazine, which cost publisher Ralph Ginzburg a conviction for obscenity, goes for $135.

Under a smudgy counter top lies the first issue of Harper's Weekly, dated 1867, and a rare first copy of Life.

"I was casting about for something to do, because I knew I couldn't go back," he said of the store. "There was no sense for me to be over there play-acting.

DIRTY HIPPIE? Ken Gjemre has a beard, potbelly, and a faded denim shirt he can't keep tucked in — and lives the life some people consider the mark of a "dirty hippie." But the former business executive says he is much happier with his life.

Indonesia may hike oil price

JAKARTA (UPI) — Indonesia is expected to increase the price of its crude oil from $6 to $8 dollars a barrel next month, the nation's third increase in three months, oil sources said.

Indonesia has until now sold its oil at a price based on the world market. Now, the sources said, the government is considering adopting spot sales pricing.

The last increase was announced last November, when prices were raised from $4.75 per barrel. Indonesia produces 1.4 million barrels of oil a day and expects to increase production to 1.5 million barrels by the end of the year. More than 60 per cent of Indonesia's oil is exported to Japan, and most of the rest is sold to the United States.

Complicates problem

Oil industry's image gives Simon headache

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William E. Simon, President Nixon's new energy chief, is trying to find a way to tap oil industry expertise without making it appear the industry will run the government's fuel programs.

Simon privately admits that his problem centers on the oil industry's image with the public. "It is not good," an energy official said.

Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton triggered the controversy when he announced recently that the government planned to use 250 oil industry executives to run the new fuel allocation program.

Critics immediately charged the government was allowing the industry to take over the program despite what they claim is an obvious conflict of interest. Simon still has not given final approval to the idea, but is expected to reach a compromise formula shortly, officials said.

During World World War II, the government made wide use of "dollar a year men" — executives who worked without pay to administer government programs, often involving their own firms.

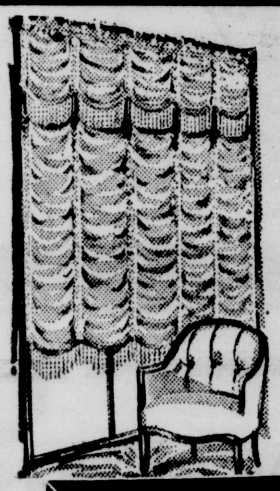

Neither Simon nor his predecessor, former Colorado Gov. John A. Love, came from the oil industry.

Some argue industry is the only source of knowledgeable talent which the government needs to deal with the complex oil crisis.

Critics argue that it is too much to expect that an oil industry executive on loan to the government will be objective and not favor his own firm or the industry generally at the expense of the consumer.

"It is the same old story— making the fox the watchman at the chicken coop," one critic said.

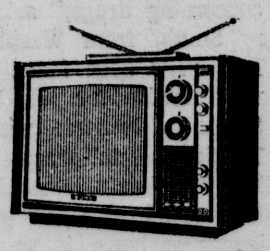

Frank N. Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute recently denied that charge.

It Happened in Pomona

By Doc Peirsol

1904 was the year!

In the year 1904 Pomona took several giant steps forward on its way toward city status.

That was the year, for example, when Newberry's Grocery, at the corner of Gordon and Second streets, installed a new electrically-operated coffee mill at a cost of $150 and, in order to make certain that their customers would be able to shop in the utmost comfort, also equipped their place of business with eight large electric fans.

It was the year when, thanks to new mass production innovations, enterprising Pomona merchants were able to offer their patrons tremendous savings on a variety of items which up until then had been in the luxury category. The dollar fountain pen advertised by Zilles' Jewelry store as, "a gold pen that is equal to many fountain pens sold for twice that sum," is a typical example of the type of progress that was taking place in Pomona's retail outlets.

But perhaps most important of all, 1904 was the year when Pomona's City Fathers took a long hard look at the city budget and decided the time had come to take drastic action if they were to be certain that adequate funds would be available to successfully operate this fast-growing community. As a result of that soul searching, they amended Section 2 of Ordinance 172 and thereby forced Pomona's tamale, popcorn and candy stands to purchase city business licenses.

Short-term funds voted for SBA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has voted to provide six more months of funding for the Small Business Administration (SBA) during a congressional investigation into charges of illegal loan making and criminal activity in the agency.

By a 339-21 vote, the House recently amended a Senate bill to increase the SBA's loan authority from $4.3 billion to $4.875 billion. The Senate orgi-nally sought an $2.3 billion over a two-year period, but allegations of wrongdoing in a number of SBA offices around the country forced a rollback.

Included in the House version of the bill is an amendment to make it a crime for any federal employe, and specifically those in the White House, to apply improper po-litcial pressure on the SBA t secure a loan, lease or fina cial transaction.

The amendment was passe after witnesses told the Hous Small Business subcommitte of a number of instances i which they said the Whit House brought pressure fo SBA loans to be made to ind viduals with questionab qualifications.

If the Senate approves th House bill, legislative actio on the SBA fund extensio will be completed. If the Se ate fails to agree, the legisl tion would be forced into conference committee.

SBA officials have testifie that action is needed on th funding proposal before Co gress recesses for Christma or several SBA loan pr grams will run out of mone by Jan. 1.

Expense ratios of mutual funds

By CARLTON SMITH

Formulas for picking a mutual fund frequently advise you to take a close look at a fund's "expense ratio."

That would seem to make sense. Isn't a fund that spends a lot of money just on running the fund wasting the money you've turned over to it for investment? Shouldn't you look for a fund where they aren't such free spenders?

Not necessarily. To most mutual fund investors, "expense ratio" is another of life's little mysteries. And because it's not well understood, salesmen will sometimes try to persuade you that Fund X is your best buy because of its low expense ratio.

Again, it's not necessarily so. Let's try to dispel some of the mystery beclouding expense ratios.

A mutual fund's expenses begin with the fee paid to its investment adviser, or management company generally ½ per cent of the fund's net assets. Thus a fund with assets of $100 million would pay a management fee of $500,000.

In addition, the fund has its own expenses of doing business, which might typically come to another $300,000. Total expenses, then, are $800,000.

A fund's expense ratio can be expressed in one of two ways. One is as a percentage of net assets. In the example above, it would be the ratio of $800,000 to $100 million, or eight-tenths of a per cent.

Expense ratio can also be shown as percentage of income. (Income means dividends and interest, NOT gains, or profits on stock that has risen in value.) Let's say our fund gets a two per cent yield on its assets, or income of $2 million. Its ratio of expenses to income is then 40 per cent.

What's the significance of such information to the potential investor? If he sees that Fund A's expense ratio is much lower than Fund B's, doesn't that tell him something important?

Unfortunately, no. Especially if he's looking at ratio of expense to income. For let's say that Fund A is a growth fund, while Fund B is an income fund. Each has expenses of $800,000.

Growth funds invest in growth stocks. Growth company profits are generally plowed back into expansion and growth, not paid out as dividends. Fund A therefore has relatively little income — say $1 million, which shoots expense ratio up to 80 per cent.

Fund B invests for income, since that's the name of its game, and gets a five per cent yield on assets. Its income of $5 million results in a nice low expense ratio of 1.6 per cent.

Would you then select Fund B over Fund A? Not if you're after growth, and you know that shares in Fund A, the "high expense" fund, have been appreciating at a steady 15 or 20 per cent.

It's obviously meaningless then — and even misleading — to apply an across-the-board test of "expense ratio" to any and all funds, without regard to the type of fund.

And even after you get that sorted out, expense ratios don't seem to tell the investor much. The Los Angeles-based monthly publication "FundScope" has compiled expense ratio data on 349 funds.

Girls face life in Turk prison

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Two young women who have spent more than a year in a Turkish prison after being convicted of drug smuggling charges are appealing for public help before they are sentenced, possibly to life imprisonment.

Jo Ann McDaniel, Coos Bay, Ore., and Kathy Zenz, Lancaster, Wis., face the possible life sentencing in a hearing next week. They have appealed to the public, the State Department and Oregon's congressional delegation to intercede, but nobody has been able to budge "touchy" Turkish officials. Some are concerned that they might push Turkish officials toward a harsher sentence.

The pair was arrested along with four other girls more than a year ago when Syrian-Turkish border officials found 225 pounds of hashish in the upholstery of a rented Volkswagen bus they were driving. Robert Hubbard, an ex-student, who rented the buses and persuaded the girls to drive them, told authorities he alone knew of the hashish.

In a recent letter to Mrs. Paul Henrich, Heppner, Ore., Miss McDaniel pleaded with the American public to put pressure on the State Department to intercede.

"I wonder if I could call on you to make our call for freedom more known," she wrote. "As our judges have told us that our next trial will be our last and it is most apparent that we will not be granted bail and most likely be sentenced."

She added that the other four girls were released in August through State Department action and "why haven't they continued to aid the two remaining innocent persons."

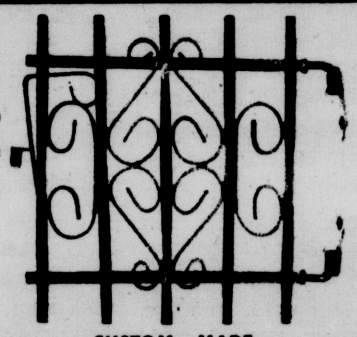

A spokesman for Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., office said Monday that the government is very much aware of the girls' case, but cannot seem to do anything about it.

"Turkish law is very strict concerning drugs," said Larry Smith, from Washington, D.C. "It's been found to be very unwise for the United States to interfere with the Turkish judicial process. Turkish officials are so touchy they could give the girls a longer sentence if we interfered."

The sentencing trial for the two in Antakya, Turkey, is set for Dec. 28.

"The horrible thing about it is that at all the hearings the girls have been proven innocent," Mrs. Heinrich said. "But justice does not seem to exist over there."

Contemporary design brings outdoors in

By HIAWATHA ESTES

If you want something new and distinctive in a popular contemporary design, the home should indeed be welcome. It is a plan that is decidedly different, very liveable and still economical to build.

It has been planned to secure the maximum from indoor-outdoor living. Sliding glass doors open onto the partially roofed patio from the three main rooms of the house, family room, living room and master bedroom. A feeling of space is created for each of these rooms which make them appear even more spacious than they are.

The patio is ideal for not only informal entertaining and outdoor meals but also for lazy lounging, sun baths, and for quiet moments alone that always seem to yield a delightful serenity.

There is excellent circulation from the entry throughout the house. Six closets line the bedroom hall and offer an unusual amount of extra storage not found in many of today's homes.

The master bedroom has its own dressing room and private bath. Besides a large amount of wardrobes, the dressing room also has a dressing table. The remaining bedrooms are of sufficient size to accommodate twin beds and all have wide wardrobes, which are much more efficient than walk-in closets.

A roofed breezeway connects the garage and house. If preferred, the garage could be connected direct to the dwelling during construction.

This same basic exterior is also available in a four bedroom floor plan, at a different price structure, and is illustrated in our book, Ranch & Modern Homes.

Complete working drawings for plan 31109 can be purchased for only $12.55 for the first set and $6.30 for each additional set ordered at the same time. This plan will be available at these special prices until April 23, 1974. Please allow two to three weeks for delivery.

A specification booklet is available for $1.05.

The following home plan books are also available: Distinctive Homes — $1.31; Prize Homes — $1.31; Hallmark Homes — $1.31; Town & Country Homes — $1.31; Homes by Hiawatha — $1.31; Ranch & Modern Homes — $2.10. All six books — an $8.65 value — for only $6.83. Orders for less than three books, please add an extra 20c per book for postage and handling. Prices include sales tax. Send all orders to: Hiawatha Estes, P.O. Box 404-PO, Northridge, California 91324.

For those with basements -- a plan for improvements

By MR. FIX

Just because a basement isn't expensively and elaborately paneled and finished doesn't mean that it can't be comfortable and attractive.

Even if you are not planning a recreation room or some formal living area down there you can still do much to make it a useful and good looking place for both work and play. Some cleaning, some painting and it can look very good.

Chances are you have storm windows throughout your house but not in your basement. Inexpensive combination storm and screen windows are available at most hardware and department stores. They are generally aluminum and can be fastened with sheet metal screws or a special adhesive right to the metal frames of the basement windows.

These will not only keep your basement warmer in the winter but help to keep the entire house warmer. If you have a warm air furnace you can cut into the duct work at one or two points and install small registers. Try to pick a duct that delivers more heat than you need already in an upstairs room, one in which you already close the register slightly.

Paint not only makes a basement better looking, it makes it drier as well. Heavy waterproof coatings will keep out slight moisture and seepage. Major leaks and seepage must be prevented from the outside, by way of a properly constructed and waterproofed foundation.

To prepare the walls for painting, clean them thoroughly. Dust and dirt must be removed. Scrub stains with detergent water. Scrape off old coats of flaking or peeling paint.

Scrub off mildew with household bleach and water. Do this several times and rinse thoroughly each time. Allow to dry thoroughly before painting.

Not all paints will do for masonry. They have to be resistant to alkali and be permeable enough so that a slight amount of moisture can breathe through the paint without causing it to flake or peel. Latex paints are generally suitable. So are the Portland cement paints that are dry and mixed with water before using.

If you use the latter, check the instructions. Generally they must be used over unpainted surfaces or surfaces coated with the same substance. They also go on only over wet surfaces. Mix only what you can use right away since the liquid cannot be stored.

Latex paints cost more but go on easier. They can be applied with a roller since they are not as heavy.

If you have a special problem such as mildew or moisture, shop for the paint that will suit you best. There is more than one formulation on the market.

For the floor use a special floor paint, making certain it is suitable for cement surfaces. Floor paints are made to withstand abrasion.

Heating best if 'zoned' for house

Would you like to reduce your heating fuel consumption this winter and still keep your family warm and comfortable? Of course you would!

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, the way to do this is with zoned hydronic heat. This is a method that uses water as the heating medium and divides the home into zones or logical heating areas, each supplied with only as much as is needed. The zoning is accomplished by special valves located at the boiler and connected to thermostats in each zone.
